EDITORIAL BRIEFS.

There are as many great men in the world now as there ever were.

Secretary Bayard is evincing that he can occasionally stiffen his backbone.

If Gladstone had been born in this country he would make a good Presidential candidate.

In Tennessee brothers are pitted against each other in the race for the office of Governor.

Japan, with 37,000,000 population, has less than 10,000 paupers. Japan must be enjoying good times.

It is a disgrace to the Prohibition sentiment of Pennsylvania to have Charles S. Wolf as its chief oracle.

For the first time, this year there will be quite a number of Black men in the Pennsylvania Democratic convention.

Yes, we agree that the riots in Belfast are a disgrace to the British government. Nothing like them ever occurred in this country.

Dr. Frank H. Hamilton, one of the distinguished surgeons who attended President Garfield, died on Wednesday the 11th.

The Democratic candidate for governor of Kansas is named Moon-light. Like all Democrats, he sleeps all day and is out all night.

None of the candidates yet named for Governor by any of the parties can compare with Gen. James A. Beaver in general excellence.

Remember, voter, that if you want to put in your little ballot, your name must be on the registering list before Thursday, September 2.

Hanlan, America's great oarsman, beat the best record in a light-scull race on Thursday. He made three miles with a turn in 19 minutes and 23 seconds.

It is a very exceptional season when England does not appropriate a little bit of territory somewhere or other. Her latest grab is the Ellice Islands in the South Pacific.

The East has escaped well this summer from drought, but the west and northwest have been greatly scouged in this respect. In Wisconsin great forest fires have destroyed much valuable property.

Wolf tracks were plenty all over the county last week.—Gazette and Bulletin. Yes, Wolf tracks have been numerous all over the State for two months past, but Beaver tracks are the kind that attract our attention this year.

Mr. Blaine will take a more active part in campaign work in Maine this year than he has done for several years. He is booked for a speech every day except Sundays, from August 24 to September 10. This is enough to start a Republican boom that will sweep the country this fall.

Gen. Daniel E. Sickles advances a novel theory regarding the desire of Mexico for war. He believes that the aim of Mexico is to involve the two countries in war with the intention of afterwards compromising. She will be willing to give up to the United States a part of her useless territory for a large sum of money which she will use in replenishing her depleted exchequer. There may be some truth in this suggestion.

Declarations of Democracy.

There are some strange declarations in the platform of principles drawn up by the committee on resolutions in the Democratic county convention, last week. For instance, the Centre county Democracy declare for a revision of the tariff. That is what a large majority of the Democratic party declares for.

But the Centre county Democrats add to it that they want such a revision as will not interfere with or injure the wages of the American workman. This is rather contradictory.

"Revision" means quite differently when used by a Democrat from its meaning when used by a Protection Republican. A citizen who belongs to the latter class favors rather an increased than a diminished tariff, but revision with Democracy always seems to mean the destruction of what protection our productions and manufactures now have, and this construction can properly be put upon the declaration made last week. Therefore, for them to add that they do not want a rate that will decrease the wages of workmen is, to say the least, inconsistent.

Again our gay Democratic friends "approved" of the administration of Governor Pattison, while they studiously ignored and virtually condemned the most recent act of the Governor in reference to Centre county affairs. It is evident that the Governor, in the appointment of Mr. Mingle for Prothontary, expressed his conviction of the superior abilities of that gentleman to fill that office and asked his nomination at the hands of the Centre county convention. But the convention repudiated Mr. Mingle, told him that he was not worthy to fill the office and spoke in actions, which are more potent than words, that Mr. Pattison had made a great mistake. Mr. Pattison was "approved" in words and condemned in actions.

About the Mexican Difficulty.

The belief that Mexico "will do what is right" in the Cutting affair seems to be spreading among the government officials who have charge of the case, or at least they think the matter can safely rest as it is until Envoy Sedgwick makes his report on the law points involved. Assistant Secretary of State Adee, who has been writing the dispatches to the Mexican Government, has started for New York, and will sail for Europe, and the Secretary of War left Washington for his summer vacation, while Mr. Cleveland is busily preparing for his trip to the Adirondacks.

The Government organ at the Mexican capital prints several important documents which show the Mexican side of the controversy, and indicate the points which will be brought to Mr. Sedgwick's notice on his arrival. These document show that the Mexican Judge at Paso del Norte held the publication of Cutting in El Centinelo, on June 6th, of reflections of Medina's character, as a part of the same libel printed in the Texan paper two weeks later, and that the arrest, imprisonment and punishment should therefore be recognized as just. The judge recognized that in regard to the Mexican publication of the libel, "an act of conciliation" between Cutting and Medina had been performed, which would have settled the differences had both parties to that act complied with it; but Cutting repudiated the "act of conciliation," claiming that he had been forced to sign it; and repeated his libel in a Texan paper.

New Moter for Water Vessels.

John Dougherty of Mount Union, Pa., has discovered a new way to navigate large steamboats, and has given a Pittsburg rolling mill an order for iron plates with which to construct folding paddles. The first trial trip will be made on the river from Allegheny to New Orleans, though it is believed that it will be of use on the ocean and that it will make the passage in one day or twenty-four hours. The paddles will be open when going forward so that they move the largest possible body of water. When the paddles make the reverse stroke they are folded and hence meet with no resistance from the water.

There will also be under the centre of the vessel two propelling poles which are intended to drive the vessel through the shoal water by striking the bottom of the river.

A ship-building syndicate is being organized which will give John Roach the management of the business. The Administration should begin scheming at once to close up the business.

Sober Truths About Democracy.

We present herewith some sober truths about the Democratic party, and invite its organs to deny a single statement here made: For more than fifty years the Democratic party has been a Free Trade party—evidenced by the Free Trade bills passed by it in 1833, 1846, 1857, and by the Morrison-Randall Free Trade bills now before Congress, and laid over for action until the December session, and also the Free Trade declarations of the National Conventions of 1848, '56, '60, '76, and 1884.

The Democratic party has ever held to the dogma that State Sovereignty was supreme over Federal authority. It was this doctrine which led to secession.

"Squatter Sovereignty" was another leading principle of Democracy. Its tireless efforts of years to plant human slavery in the free Territories, at the point of the bayonet in the hands of Federal soldier, and a rifle and bowie knife in the hands of the bushwhacker, attest its devotion to that great principle of Democracy.

We indict the Democratic party as Destructionists and Disunionists and cite as proof their recent attempt to destroy the American Union, to preserve which the Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania was thrice wounded in battle, losing a leg in his last engagement with the armed foe of the Nation.

We charge that while the Democratic party of the South was boldly battling for the principles of slavery and secession a large section of the Democratic party of the North was covertly striving for the same object by instigating draft riots which required the pressure of Union Soldiers to suppress—the Democratic Governor of New York being unable or unwilling to suppress them, and by Knights of the Golden Circle organizations, in the West.

Among the deeds achieved by the Democracy, and recorded to their discredit in letters bold and black, are:

Free Trade,
Human Slavery,
State Supremacy,
Squatter Sovereignty,
Dred Scott Decision,
Secession and Rebellion,
Hatred of Union Soldiers.

Contrast the thirty years' career of the Republican party with that of the Democracy. Among the glorious deeds standing to the credit of this party—and recorded in letters that live and breathe are:

No Slavery in the Territories.
Free Homesteads for American citizens.
Railways to the Pacific.
Rebellion Defeated and the Union Preserved.
Freedom and Citizenship to four million Slaves.
A National Banking System.
Protection to American Labor and Capital.
Unprecedented National prosperity as the result of the Republican policy.

Is it any wonder that young men of education and mettle hesitate to join the Democratic party—a party that we challenge its ablest defenders to point to a single good deed written over against its name? Is it to be wondered at that young men, educated in the public schools of the country and familiar with the Nation's history, haste to unite their fortunes with and to battle manfully for the success of, the Republican party?

Heretofore the main body of recruits for the Democratic party were those who have become citizens by naturalization and it is not at all surprising that the more intelligent of this class of voters are beginning to prefer the proud title of Republican Protectionist, to that of Democratic Free Trader.—John W. Frazier in the Media American.

New York city seems to be continually in some excitement raised by discoveries of public jobbery. A few weeks ago it was nothing but Jaehne and the boodle aldermen. Those scoundrels have since disappeared from the scene, and Squire and Flynn and their corrupt associates are now the principal figures in the moving panorama of corruption which the metropolis unfolds year after year.

Anarchist organizations in Europe have been sending funds to Chicago to aid in the defense of the Anarchists on trial there. There is a rumor abroad that money is being used in jury-fixing. Close detective work ought to be kept up until the Anarchists have been convicted.

Accused of Falsehood.

President Cleveland does not like the press and he has written two rather boyish letters denouncing the newspapers. This is in the face of the fact that the newspapers of the country have treated him much better than he deserves. The Washington Post, heretofore an administration organ, accuses the President of deliberately lying to a responsible gentleman connected with that paper. The newspaper man received replies from the President directly contradictory to what, two hours later, were proven to be true. This is enough to anger a newspaper man whose aim is to give correct news.

The editor, in his comment on the President's strange action, has this to say:

"It was not necessary for the President to answer the questions put to him concerning his acts or intentions. The contemplated change was strictly his own business, and it would have been easy to say, "I am not ready to speak concerning this matter yet. I cannot say anything, and wish you would not mention this interview." His request would, of course have been respected. But to be distinctly told that no resignation had taken place, and to be led to believe that one had never been talked of, or thought of, and then, as soon as the Post was on the street to have the announcement made that Hedden had been already superseded—this is bewildering."

Dramatic Arts.

Henry Irving, reputed to be as celebrated an actor as there is in the world, is now in this country, and we suppose he and Miss Ellen Terry will give some performances when the season begins. Since Irving has been here we have discovered why he is so popular, and we must see him before we decide as to his artistic ability. He knows how to approach men and to win their good opinions and he is doing it fast. When he came over, instead of waiting for invitations to big feasts, he began to give them and for three consecutive nights stuffed his friends with canvasback ducks, terrapin, champagne, etc. Then they called him the prince of entertainers. Under the influence of his popularity they have only to see him on the stage to call him the prince of actors. Attack a man through his stomach and you have him secure.

Exit Oleomargarine.

Since we have learned more regarding the probable result of the new Oleomargarine law we like it better, though we cannot yet see why the rate of tax was reduced from 5 cents to 2 cents per pound. But even two cents, it is said, will drive oleomargarine out of the markets and the farmer will be benefited and all who like clean things to eat will be pleased. It is said by some that what the poor man wants is something to put on his bread, even if it is only oleo. No, the poor man wants butter, and the poor man will be better off without anything than the plain bread, rather than to put on it such distasteful stuff as oleomargarine. One ounce of good butter will do him more benefit than a ton of the other stuff.

Defense and War.

Tilden, though a Democrat, was a wise man and our country should follow the advice whice he recently grave, to erect coast defenses. As a Nation we love to talk independently and it is so much more agreeable to do this if one has made arrangements for defense beforehand.

In the event of war with Mexico the correct policy would be to collect an army sufficiently large to crush Mexico at one stroke. The policy of England in sending an insufficient number of men to her colony wars should teach us a lesson. We dont want our citizens overpowered, and an army of 500,000 would sweep right through Mexico and save trouble, time and bloodshed. Such an army could easily be raised. We might go with a big army, but not with a mere handful—no, thank you.

A Strange Spectacle.

Certainly, the most peculiar circumstance in politics this year is the posing of Charley Wolf before the Prohibitionists. That party has so many good men in its fold, who have always been Prohibitionists, that it is wonderfully strange to find Mr. Wolf—a scheming politician and a Prohibitionist of only a few weeks' duration—acting as their chief apostle, making the principal speeches and mentioned as their most prominent candidate for Governor. The spectacle is disgusting and sufficient to drive true, consistent Prohibitionists out of the party.

Cutting's Offense.

We have heard several persons ask what the offense was that Cutting committed to so arouse the ire of Mexico, and will briefly explain it.

Cutting was engaged in Paso del Norte, a Mexican city, in publishing a newspaper called El Centenole. Although an American citizen, he resided in Paso del Norte eighteen months. Emigdio Medina, a Mexican of the same place, proposed starting a new paper, whenpon Cutting published a statement denouncing Medina as a "fraud" and that the proposed paper was a scheme to swindle advertisers. Then Cutting was arrested on the charge of libel, and when he signed and published a retraction of the charge the case was dismissed.

Then he went to the Texan town of El Paso, where in a paper, the Herald, he published a card in both Spanish and English, repeating his first charges against Medina and adding that he had been forced to sign the retraction. He also called Medina a "dead beat" and said that should Medina desire American satisfaction, he (Cutting) would be pleased to give it to him. It is asserted that Cutting circulated several copies in Mexico, but Cutting himself declares that he took only one copy of the Herald in his pocket to Paso del Norte, which he exhibited to a friend.

Mexico claims the right to take cognizance of the re-publication of the libel in Texas. Some reports say that Cutting, who has been sentenced to one year's imprisonment and $600 fine, is being treated humanely in prison. Anyway, it is quite a complicated condition of affairs.

Unavoidable.

A very large and important paper named the Review and located at Curwensville, Clearfield county, contains the announcement that "war with Mexico is unavoidable." This settles it. There are some persons who believe there should be war, but who were willing to admit that by some chance it might be avoided. Others are decidedly opposed to war and consider such a serious termination of the difficulty as quite improbable. In brief, we had not thought that such a serious condition of affairs existed as to render unavoidable the clash of arms and the shedding of blood. But the Review pronounces war unavoidable, and we calmly and peacefully submit. All that remains is to prepare for the contest. Let an army of 500,000 be sent down there at once.

The news comes from Rome by way of Quebec that the Pope has finally made up his mind that the Knights of Labor must be brought under the ban of the church and all good Catholics be forbidden to become members of that order. Just what effect this bull may have on the society it will take some little time to demonstrate; but if all the Catholics now members of the Knights obey the Pope's behest and withdraw, the ranks of the organization must be greatly weakened. As the alternative is given them of leaving the Knights or being cast without the pale of the church, there is little doubt that they will prefer to give up the Knights. Leading Catholics in the society, however, express the hope that the difficulty may yet be bridged over and His Holiness reconciled to the organization, but in order to do this it will be necessary to remove the secrecy now surrounding the proceedings of the Knights, and which, it is claimed, has enabled it to operate so effectively. The matter is one of no little importance in the labor situation, and the outcome will be awaited with great interest by all classes.

Lord Salisbury seems unable to conceive of any policy towards Ireland except that of coercion. That has been tried before and failed, even when Parnell and his associates had been clapped in jail. Even the dense Tory intellect ought to see that it is impossible to rule Ireland in that way now when Scotland, Wales and a powerful party in England are making common cause with the oppressed Nation.

There is a contest among the watering places as to which shall have the finest view of the sea serpent. Ocean View, near Norfolk, is able to describe him as 130 feet long, gray, and with a head like a horse. The sea serpent is making himself so common that he will cease to be a curiosity.

Poetry.

WHERE ARE THE POETS LINGERING?

Great is the power of Poetry! High in the temple of Fame
Are those immortals still, who worthily wear a name
With fadele s laurels crowned, upon the historic page
Transcending in glory that of the warrior, statesman, sage.
All are not poets who seek the poet's crown to wear,
Though brilliant, æsthetic, pro'ound, their songs passing fair,
But still are wanting in sorce, and lack the musical ring
That marks the offspring true of the pure, sweet Helicon Spring.

But the songs of the Master Singers! Those melodies sublime
That tell of the forces of Nature, and objects of space and time,
Of the love and wisdom displayed in the Word and works of God,
Which, though they mount to the stars, fail not to enlighten the clod,
To me are sunlight, starlight, food, raiment, everything fair
And beautiful in life and love, in the earth, and the sea and the air.
There is not a flower that blooms, nor a song that floats on the breeze,
Nor a perfume delicious exhaled by the vines and blooming trees.

There is not a thought of love, nor a thrill of celestial joy,
In the heart of a maiden pure, or the soul of a spirited boy,
That is not as full of poetry as sunshine is of life,
And y t, in the realms of thought, of ceaseless endeavor and strife
We are hungry and thirsty ever, for poets with power to impart
The lessons of wisdom and love thes all contain for the heart.
The harps of a thousand strings on every hillside stand—
And in every valley—awaiting the touch of the master hand.

But where are the poets lingering? Why are their voices mute?
We sha l hear no more the music of Lanier's magic flute,
And Longfellow's harp is silent, but the souls of these dear ones still
With loftier inspirations, are waiting, our hearts to fill.
Then come to the banquet, brothers! the table is ready and you
Must daily no longer, but prove to your noble vocation true,
Let not the Lord of the vineyard says—as 'twas said of yore—
"The fields are white to the harvest," but the reapers toil no more.

CHARLES REEVE.

THE SILVER LINING.

There's never a day so sunny
But a little cloud appears;
There's never a life so happy
But has had its time of tears;
Yet the sun shines out the brighter
When the stormy tempest clears.

There's never a garden growing
With rose in every plot;
There's never a heart so hardened
But it has one tender spot;
We have only to prune the border
To find the forget-me-not.

There's never a cup so pleasant
But has b tter with the sweet;
There's never a path so rugged
That bears not the prints of feet;
And we have a Helper promised
For the trials that we may meet.

There's never a sun that rises
But we know 'twill set at night;
The tints that gleam in the morning
At evening are just as bright;
And the hour that is the sweetest
Is between the dark and light.

There's never a dream that's happy
But the waking makes us sad;
There's never a dream of sorrow
But the waking makes us glad!
We shall look some day with wonder
At the troubles we have had.

THE STATUE.

As perfect in their symmetry as thine,
O inarticu ate marble lips, were those
My love once raised to mine, yet tinged with rose
And freighted with a redolence divine.
Her poise of head was queenly; fair and fine
Her alabaster arms that shamed the snows;
Her gracious bearing had thy pure repose,
And stately was she as the forest pine.

Knowledge sat throned upon her regal brow,
Round which her tresses rippled, bright as gold;
Sweet as a songbird's on a budding bough
The liquid voice that from her lips outrolled;
But lo! there came an awful c nge, and now
Thou, in thine icy hush, art not more cold!

Our Story Teller.

AN IRISH ELOPEMENT.

"Arden Hill, my dear old chappie, of all others I was most anxious to see you to-day."

The speaker was rather a good-looking young fellow, who wore the cap and gown of a student of Trinity college, Dublin, and as he spoke he laid his hand familiarly on the shoulder of a friend standing at a book stall by the college wall, and absorbed in the pages of a volume picked up haphazardly.

"Well, Dillon, what is it?"

"I think you will do me a service, which, while it will not entail a great deal of trouble on you, may help to secure my future happiness."

"Of course it goes without saying that I will. But what makes Maurice Dillon look as solemn as an undertaker at his wife's funeral?"

"This is not the place to tell you, Hill. Come across to the 'Star and Garter,' and over a chop and a glass of bitter beer you can hear the story."

Seated in a quiet corner of that snug old hostelry, Mr. Dillon commenced:

"You are a Kings county man, Hill—Tullamore, I believe."

His companion nodded an affirmative, and Dillon went on:

"A dirty little hole of a town, built in a bog, isn't it? In fact, I may take it you are a bog-trotter."

"You may take it that I am a genuine bog-trotter, but, Dillon, if you please, you will cast no aspersions on my native town."

"Oh, I mean no offense, I assure you," Dillon explained, with a laugh. "But I was thinking of saying that Charles Lever has left on record. He says that among Irish towns Tullamore is only remarkable for the superlative ugliness of its females natives. There, now, don't get your back up. I'm willing not to believe a word of it. But tell me, am I safe in assuming that you know the country within a radius of a dozen miles of Tullamore?"

"Every inch of it; but what is this leading up to?"

"Will you have patience—two weeks ago, when you and Watkins and I saw Irving as Hamlet in the Theatre Royal, there was a lady in the dress-circle whom Arthur Watkins had promised to see home, in company with her pa; but he found our discussion on the relative merits of Irving and Barry Sullivan so very interesting that the lady was forgotten."

"Indeed; but, anyway, Watkins is the last man in the university to allow a woman's eyes to distract his thoughts from sober studies; and now let me ask you again, what is all this leading up to? For a Trinty college man you have, I must say, a particularly lucid style in telling a story."

"Arthur Watkins' father and the father of this young lady are very anxious to make a match between them, and the young people, with proverbial perversity, are adverse to entering into any such arrangement. Watkins would regard a wife simply as a nuisance and a bore."

"And the lady?"

"The lady, I believe—or, rather, I sincerely hope, loves another."

"A very friendly aspiration, upon my soul, Dillon."

"You will scarcely blame me when I say that Lucy and I are——"

"Oh, so the cat is out of the bag, is it, Master Maurice? And with your keen appreciation of honor do you think this is a matter to boast of? You have wronged a friend who——"

"I haven't done anything of the sort, Hill, and I wish you wouldn't think it. Lucy and I knew each other—well, were fond of each other—there now—before Watkins looms up as an unwilling rival. The friends of Watkins, you know, are wealthy, while I—but 'tis the old story. Lucy's father desires to secure a rich husband for his only child."

Hill crossed his arms on the table, and looking in his friend's face said quietly: "And don't you know he's right, Maurice Dillon? Since my child hood days I do not think that any single individual ever slandered me by saying that I possessed even a moderate share of common sense, but I say to marry a girl where that marriage must necessarily entail the life of a pauper is something that only a scamp or a fool would do, and for friendship's sake I'm disposed to class you in the latter category."

"I'm not in a mood to hear a sermon from you now, Hill. Tell me, do you know a place near Tullamore called Raheenbeg?"

"About as well as I know College Green," was Hill's reply.

"Well, Raheenbeg is Lucy's home, and Watkins has an invitation to visit there this week. He is going reluctantly he tells me, and if he does it is easy to anticipate the result. No man, not even Arthur Watkins, can resist the charms of Lucy Damer, and should she be coerced into accepting him as a suitor, it would simply drive me to the devil."

Dillon rose from his chair and paced the room a minute or two in silence. Then he said abruptly:

"I am going down there to-night, Hill, and I want you to come with me."

"It's two years since I have been at home, and honestly I don't care to go in that direction just now; but any way how could I serve you?"

"Lucy is going to elope with me. Now, don't look so horrified, man. Her father, Parson Damer, apprehends something of the sort, and as a consequence she is as jealously guarded as a political suspect in Kilmainham. I shall tell you our plans on the way down. A train leaves Kingsbridge at 3.30. We shall reach Geashell at 6, and if all goes well much depends on you—we shall catch the 7.30 up-train at the same station."

"Are you sure you are acting squarely by this young girl, Dillon? She loves you, or believes she loves you, which amounts to the same thing, I suppose. She is willing to leave home and father for your sake, and what will you give her in return? Why, you will scarcely have a shilling of your own to begin housekeeping with, and her father is reported as poor as a church-mouse."

"Don't fling any more of your infernal homilies at my head. I must have Lucy if we begged together. She is willing to take the risks, and Hill, you have promised to stand by me."

It was a cold, wet night when Dillon and his friend reached the little station where their journey by rail terminated. As they emerged from the gate they found a solitary car on the roadside and Hill at once recognized the driver.

"Hello, Mickey Leddy! A wet night, isn't it?"

"Arrah! Mr. Hill, is id yerself that's in it? Yis, glory be t' God! I'd a wet night, surely, an' I suppose ye'll have a sate home wid me."

"No, I'm not going home, Mickey, but if you're disengaged you might drive this gentleman and me over to Raheenbeg."

"Faix, an' sure I will. Jump up on the other side an' I'll have ye there in a jiffy."

"How fortunate to find this car here, Hill," said Dillon, as they started down the road.

"Yes, my friend, it is wonderful what opportunities are afforded a man when he is bent on going to the devil head long. You will drop me at the church yard wall, Mickey. Don't you know it?"

"Do I know id, is id, Measha, sure ye haven't forgot the day we wor at the coorsin' match, whin Joe Coloille's grey-hound Mable took two turns out uv the hare in Odlum's forty-acre field that up against it. An' be the same token we had a glass of spirits aich in Nancy Kelly's shebeen at the Meetanaus on the way home that Joe said was the best that he ever tasted, an' ye know he ought to be a judge."

Five minute's walk from the place of rendezvous brought Hill to the residence of the Rev. Mr. Damer. A female servant admitted him to the hall, and in response to the question, was Mr. Damer at home, that gentleman made his appearance from a room in the rear of the house.

"I regret, sir," said Hill, with great gravity, to be the bearer of unpleasant tidings. Mr. Watkins—you know Arthur Watkins, of Trinity—has met with an accident of serious nature within half a mile of your house." Before the clergyman could utter a word Hill went on with nervous rapidity. "I met him by accident at Partarlington station, and as I was driving over to Killeigh I induced him to accept a seat as far as your residence, and I fear poor Arthur is seriously hurt. Then as the vehicle is badly smashed, I came on here for assistance."

"This is, indeed lamentable news; but come inside, sir, while I give directions to have my own car got ready. Barbara, you will go to Miss Damer's room and tell her I wish to speak to her."

Barbara lingered a moment at the door when her master left the room, to eye the visitor inquisitively.

He drew a note from the inner pocket of his coat, and approaching her, said: "Barbara, my dear, will you give this note to your mistress, and tell her that Mr. Dillon is waiting for her in the shadow of the churchyard wall?"

"O, may the Lord save us! Maybe it's he what wants to run away with her."

"Faith, maybe it is, my dear; but don't let that frighten you. Who knows but one of these days some likely young fellow will be running away with yourself? But had you not better give that letter to your mistress at once, and tell her, as her father will drive in an opposite direction to where her lover waits her, she will have the chance of meeting him at last."

A few minutes later Mr. Damer and his daughter entered the room. Miss Damer was scarcely pretty, and Hill was wondering at his friend's blindness until she raised her eyes to his—

Eyes too expressive to be blue,
Too lovely to be gray.

and which certainly gave a singular charm to her face.

"I have told my daughter, sir, and since we cannot start for a quarter of an hour or so, you will take some refreshments."

"Couldn't hear of it, sir," Hill said hurriedly, "I must return to my poor friend at once, and I am sure you will make all haste possible." Before the clergyman could reply Mr. Hill was out of the room, and as he descended the steps he muttered with a sigh of relief:

"Heaven be thanked for this lucky escape from an ugly predicament."

At 10.30 that night Maurice Dillon, with Lucy clinging to her arm, entered the parlor of a cottage in a Dublin suburb. A gray-haired lady was reading by the fire, whom Dillon addressed as follows: "Aunt Mary, this is Lucy Damer, whom you know I have long loved. Since the powers that be were against us, we've taken the law into our own hands, and I ran away with her to-night."

Aunt Mary looked at the trembling girl for a moment, and said with calm severity: "In my younger days, Miss Damer, an Irish girl had a reputation for modesty of which her countrymen were very proud. And you, sir, an Irish gentleman, have dared to compromise the honor of this young lady by your criminal recklessness.

"I've only followed the example of an ancestor of ours, who is your own particular hero, Aunt Mary. That Captain Maurice Dillion, who fought with Lord Clare at Fontenoy, ran away with as pure and true a girl as ever bore the name of wife."

"I'm not going to split logical straws with you, sir. You will return to your college immediately, and 'twill be a m'racle if they don't expel you yet Come over to the fire, Miss Damer, you are positively shivering with the cold, and you will give me your papa's address. I shall telegraph to him in the morning."

"Oh! Miss Dillon, please."

"Yes, Aunt Mary is right, as she always is. I shall go into town, of course, and don't cry, Lucy. Aunt Mary will be very kind to you, for didn't I tell you on our way up that she's a thousand bricks?"

"Young man, how often have I told you not to use slang in my presence?"

And by way of answer he threw his arms around her neck and gave her a resounding kiss; but it was almost timidly he took Lucy's hand in his to say good-night, although he looked yearningly into the eyes that long ago had made him captive. Perhaps Aunt Mary saw that yearning glance and the look of love that answered it. I only know that as her nephew left the room she said in gentle tones; "Miss Damer, that careless boy always leaves the hall door open. Will you kindly close it after him?"

Which of my fair readers has not already arrived at the conclusion that Maurice or Lucy were married? He is now a physician of respectable practice in a country town, and in Lucy's home and his there is a little toddler who has learned to love the gentle, gray-haired lady who often visits that happy home, and who, he would tell you, is his own Aunt Mary.

Does this Sound Familiar?

Cincinnati Enquirer.

There is an article going the rounds entitled, "How the Girls Go to Sleep." The manner in which they go to sleep, according to the article, can't hold a candle to the way a married woman goes to sleep. Instead of thinking what she should have attended to before going to bed, she thinks of it afterward. While she is revolving these matters in her mind, and while snugly tucked up in bed, the old man is scratching his legs in front of the fire and wondering how he will pay the next month's rent. Suddenly she exclaims: "James did you lock the door?"

"Which door?" says James.

"The cellar door," says she.

"No," says James.

"Well, you had better go down to lock it, for I heard some one in the back yard last night."

Accordingly James paddles down the stairs and locks the door. About the time James returns and is going to bed she remarks: "Did you shut the stair door?"

"No," says James.

"Well, if it is not shut that cat will get up into the chamber."

"Let 'er come up, then," says James, ill-naturedly.

"My goodness, no!" returned his wife "she'd suck the baby's breath."

Then James paddles down stairs again and steps on a tack, and closes the stair door and curses the cat, and returns to the bedroom. Just as he begins to climb into his couch his wife observes: "I forgot to bring up some water; suppose you bring up some in the big tin."

"And so James, with muttered curse, goes down into the dark kitchen and falls over a chair, and rasps all the tinware off the wall in search of the "big" tin, and then jerks the stair door open and howls: "Where the deuce are the matches?"

She gives him a minute direction where to find the matches, and adds that she would rather go and get the water herself than have the whole neighborhood raised about it. After which James finds the matches, procures the water and comes up stairs and plunges into bed.

Presently his wife says: "James, let's have an understanding about money matters. Now, next week I've got to pay—"

"I don't know what you'll have to pay, and don't care!" shouts James, as he lurches around and jams his face against the wall; "all I want is sleep."

"That's all very well for you!" snaps his wife, as she pulls the covers viciously; "you never think of the worry and trouble I have. And there is Araminta, who I believe is getting the measles."

"Let her take 'em," says James.

Hereupon she begins to cry softly, but about the times James is falling into a gentle doze she punches him in the ribs with her elbow and says: "Did you hear that scandal about Mrs. Jones?"

"Where?" he says, sleepily.

"Why, Mrs. Jones."

"Where?" inquires James.

"I declare," said his wife, "you are getting more stupid every day. You know Mrs. Jones that lives at No. 21? Well, day before yesterday Susan Smith told Mrs. Thompson that Sam Barker had said that Mrs. Jones had——"

Here she paused and listened. James is snoring in profound slumber. With a snort of rage she pulls all the covers off him, wraps up in them, and lays awake till 2 a.m. thinking how badly used she is. And this is the way the married woman goes to sleep.

Singular Taste.

"I noticed that the Emperors of Austria and Germany kissed each other several times at Gastein," remarked Algernon Fitzpercy to Ethalinda De Wiggs.

"Yes, I saw that, too," replied Ethalinda. "It was strange taste, but perhaps there were no girls about."

Then there was a sound as of a horse's hoof being drawn from a clay puddle, as Algernon proved he was not infected with any such queer taste.

Facts About the Mule.

It is said that a mule cannot bray if you tie a weight to his tail and hold it down. This was touchingly illustrated in the cavalay movements that preceded the second battle of Manassas. General Stuart, with a large force of cavalry manœuvring around the retreating army of Pope, got caught between two columns of Union troops, and was obliged to conceal himself in a dense wood between two parallel roads along which the enemy were retreating. He had to lie low all night until the columns passed by. Messengers that the Union generals sent to each other through the woods were captured and held with as little noise as possible. One great difficulty was to keep the mules in the ordnance and commissary wagons from braying, and thus calling the attention of the foe. For this purpose Stuart ordere a man to be detailed to stand by each mule and whack him with a stick as soon as he offered to bray; for a mule, like an orator, requires a certain preparation before beginning his neat and appropriate exercises. There is a preliminary protest made with the ears, and certain solemnities of the nostrils, an expression of sorrow overspread the countenance, then the tail is lifted. A bray does not break forth from the lips of the mule. It begins way back in the abdominal viscera and comes gradually up. Now, as soon as the cavalry mules began to prep are for a bray, whack-l whack! would go the sticks, and the bray would be suppressed—and thus all night. It was said that this was needless severity, for it would have suffied to tie a brickbat to the tail of each mule.

Mineral Water for Horses.

"It was my habit," said a gentleman just returned from a visit at Cape May to a New York Times reporter, "to go to the beach daily at the hours for the horses to bathe, and a great pleasure I found it to watch them. The noble fellows came down over the sand, tossing their heads and impatiently pawing, evidently full of eager anticipation. Once in the water they waded or swam about on the fine, smooth beach, ducking their hands in the breakers and tossing the spray like a pack of huge Newfoundland mastiffs. The grooms found it difficult to get them out and back to their quarters. One of the men in charge told me how well horses thrive during a seashore residence. The briny air is a bracing tonic to them, and the salt water imparts a satin smoothness to their coats.

"At Saratoga, too, equines improve on the waters as much as their maters; more, perhaps, for they do not have the counteracting influences of late hours and rich eating, not to mention the more serious dissipations of the spa. I have seen horses there led regularly to the spring every morning for their dose, and a quantity of the medicinal liquid carred away for grooming purposes. A good rubbing down with spring water acts like a polishing brush, and a horse's sides fairly reflect in their lustrous gloss after it. But it costs a nice little sum to have pailfuls of Congress or Hathorn dealt out every day, and it is not every man who can afford to coddle his stable in that way."

When Spectacles Should Be Used.

When we are compelled to remove small objects a considerable distance from the eye.

When we find the light insufficient.

When the object appears blurred, cloudy, or has a mist before it.

When the letters of a book run together or appear double or treble.

When the eyes become fatigued after reading or other exercise.

These rules answer in many cases but not always.

Never choose a pair of spectacles when the eye is fatigued. Wait an hour or two, after which you can be better suited. The tired eye needs rest, not glasses, and if they are purchased when the eye is excited or tired, errors are certain to occur in selecting the proper glasses. Wait patiently for an hour or two, or better still, three.

Russian Criminal Statistics.

The Russian empire contains 884 penitentiary establishments (at least that is the number of which the Administration of Prisons publishes any account.) Their occupants on the 1st of January last year numbered 94,515 of both sexes, an excess of nearly 8 per cent. above the returns of the preceding twelve months. Of these persons the ordinary houses of detention contained 68,000, the convict prisons 6,5000, the reformatories 8,000, the prisons in Poland 8,000. The proportion of women was less than 10 per cent. of the whole, but in the kingdom of Poland the women amounted to 16 per cent. of the incarcerated (probably owing to their participation in political agitation.) Nearly three-quarter of a million arrests take place in the year.

A Warm Night.

"Very warm to-night," remarked a policeman, as he sauntered into the kitchen of a St. Paul residence, acting very much as though a frequent caller.

"You're right, sir," exclaimed the maid in replying to her cousin's remark. "It do strike me that the nights up here are not as cool as they used to be."

"Faith and you're not far wrong," continued the wearer of blue, as he squared himself in front of a table and began to eat his lunch. "It keeps on getting warmer and warmer all the toime."

"Pass that cream," said the policeman. "Why, the noights are getting so bastely hot that us officers on the noight bates have to walk around in the shade of trees and buildings. # How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

Snakes in a Spring.

An item in the Ore Hill correspondence of the Altoona Tribune is as follows:

"Mrs. Eli Strayer, of this place, recently left a bucket of water remain over night at a place near her residence to which water from a spring near by is conveyed in one and one-fourth inch gas pipe. On going for the bucket next morning she noticed in it something resembling a dark colored rag or piece of cloth, and in attempting to remove it she found it to be eleven young snakes about five inches long with six snake eggs, all in a nice heap with the snakes. The family continued to use the water from the spring for some time. In the meantime, however, the whole family took sick, and supposing that the water might be the cause of the illness, an investigation was made, both of the spring and the pipe through which the water was conveyed from it, and in the pipe the partly decomposed remains of a viper snake and one young snake were found. It is supposed that the snakes found in the bucket of water some time before were the brood of the old viper discovered in the pipe, by which the family doubtless was poisoned. Yet, we are glad to know that they are all in a fair way to recovery, but naturally shudder at the mention of snakes."

Death of Israel Test, Esq.

Israel Test, Esq., well and favorably known as "Father" Test, died at 1.30 o'clock Friday morning at the residence of his niece, Mrs. S. Fiegal, in Philipsburg, Pa. Father Test was in the 56th year of his life and had practiced law at the Clearfield bar for upward of thirty years. He has had a large and varied experience. He was particularly distinguished for his genial and happy disposition, which made him a favorite among legal brethren as well as among the general public. As an advocate in criminal cases he was eminently successful. Understanding human nature thoroughly, he was able to enlist the sympathies of juries for his clients. A widow and two daughters survive him. The funeral took place from his late residence in Clearfield, Pa., on Monday last at 2 o'clock p. m.—Altoona Tribune.

The Glorious Climate of Baltimore.

Baltimore American.

We regret to observe that the report that a colored man who recently died here was 153 years old is received with considerable incredulity, mingled with unconcealed levity, by our esteemed contemporaries in different parts of the country. This is wrong. In Baltimore we have an atmosphere that is especially conducive to longevity, and if an inhabitant doesn't live to be 100 it is his fault. Sometimes people die young here, because they are careless; and sometimes old people die because they are tired of living and desire a change. To those, however, who obey the laws of health and do not get sick, who are not the victims of too much happiness and diamond-back terrapin, the years fly as if they were months. If Mr. Mathuselah had emigrated to Baltimore he would probably be living yet, playing the role of an old inhabitant, and regaling the minds of the younger generations with lurid stories of the warm weather they used to have in years gone by.

No Time to Study Nature.

"Ah'" said the summer tourist, leaning over the fence and addressing the farmer, "may I make bold to inquire what that great quanity of green vegetation growing over there is?"

"Cert'nly mister; that's corn."

"Ah thanks. And those large animals over beyond the fence, they are, err—"

"Cows, my friend, every one of 'em cows. Say, you don't seem to be very well posted on these ere things."

"Perhaps not. The fact is, my business has kept me so closely confined that this is the first chance I've had to get out in the country."

"Running a bank or something like that?"

"No, sir, I am editor of an agricultural paper. I have held that position for thirty years."

Telephones in the Storm.

While a thunder and lightning storm is prevailing people who have telephones should not call the Exchange. If they could go in the Exchange at such a time and hear the way the wires snap they would appreciate the situation of the lady operators. Their message is seldom so urgent that they cannot wait until the worst of the thunder and lightning passes away. So, be a little patient and considerate.

Furious Wind.

The storm of Friday afternoon contained an advance guard of wind. There was plenty of dust for that wind to pick up and most of it seemed to be gathered in the air and scattered in all directions. The air was thick with dust for a few moments, making it disagreeable to be out doors. While it lasted it made things quite lively. By the time all the windows and doors were closed the gale ceased and was followed by rain.

That Letter of General Meade's.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—In speaking of the letter of General Meade published in the Philadelphia Press, General Sickles said to-day that it should be remembered that Colonel Benedict speaks of the letter as confidential, and it is presumed that the family and friends of Gen. Meade in Philadelphia have sanctioned its publication. Only a cursory perusal of General Meade's letter suggests the reason why he wished to have it treated as confidential. It must have been written without deliberation, without revision, and without comparison with official records.

"It contradicts his own official report or the battle made in October, 1863, and his testimony before the committee on the conduct of the war. General Meade is altogether mistaken in speaking of the charges, insinuations and attacks upon him by me. I have never spoken of his conduct at Gettysburg except in my testimony before the committee upon the conduct of the war in February, 1864. General Meade's testimony was given the following month and with the full knowledge of all my statements, none of which were contradicted by him when given. The report of the committee upon the conduct of the war justified me and censured General Meade."

Rioting in Belfast.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Rioting has been resumed in Belfast. From midnight last night until 9 o'clock this morning a rifle war was in progress on Shank hill road and old Falls road. One person was killed and many were wounded. The town is seething.

A dispatch from Belfast says: Sectarian strife has recurred in a deplorable cold blooded fashion. Experienced marksmen this morning conducted a rifle fight from the roof tops, chimney stacks and street corners. Immense crowds of partisans who carefully kept out of range were prepared to assist by supplying ammunition and removing the wounded. The sides were equally divided. The moon shone brightly throughout the contest. The Orangemen admit that one of their men was killed and that two others named Smith and Johnson were mortally wounded; also that there were numerous minor casualties on their side. They claim that they killed and wounded many Catholics, but the latter deny that they sustained serious losses. Many houses were riddled by bullets. Whenever the military appeared the combatants shifted their ground. Finally, at 5 o'clock, after the riot act had been twice read, the troops charged upon the crowds and cleared the streets temporarily.

An old man and two women, inmates of a house on Conway street, from which many shots had been fired, were arrested. They stated that three men forced their way into the house and had remained there all night, firing from the roof. A howling crowd escorted the prisoners to jail. The mob to-day repeatedly fired upon the police. A tavern owned by a Catholic, situated in the Protestant district, was looted. The order instructing the police to use buckshot instead of bullets has been circulated.

Concerning the Recent Edict by the Pope.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 13.—Archbishop Hess, in an interview on the edict of the pope against the Knights of Labor announced by Cardinal Taschereau at Quebec, says he has not heard anything in regard to it. The edict may be a special one for Canada. In case a similar edict should be issued for the United States it will be made public by Cardinal Gibbon at Baltimore.

Briefs.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A dispatch from Leigh, Lancaster, states that a terrible explosion occurred this morning in the the Woodend colliery at that place. One hundred and forty men were below at the time and many of them were shockingly burned. The total number of lives lost was forty.

AUGUSTA, Me., Aug. 13.—Mayor May has telegraphed Grand Master Workman Powderly inviting him to visit Augusta as a guest of the city to use his good offices to settle the strike. The mill men were paid off to-day. There is no indication of a settlement.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Christine Nilsson was married to-day to Count De Casa Miranda, of Spain. The marriage was peformed in this city, and the ceremony was private as possible. The couple start for Spain to spend their honeymoon.

WASHINGTON, August 14.—There will be no further appointments of presidential postmasters until after the return of the president from his summer vacation in the Adirondacks.

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 13.—This city was visited last evening by an earthquake, which continued about twelve seconds and was very pronounced. Nearly every portion of the city felt its effects. Houses were shaken perceptibly and great terror existed among the more timid. There is no report, however, of any material damage.

READING, August 13.—A violent rain storm passed through a portion of the Lebanon Schuylville valley this afternoon, doing considerable damage to corn and tobacco. The tracks of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad between Clinton and Hamburg were badly washed, and trains were somewhat delayed.

KEOKUK, Ia., Aug. 13.—A hurricane passed over this city last evening, doing great damage to buildings, and leveling trees and fences. Numbers of business houses were unroofed, and the spire of the First Baptist church was blown down. Considerable loss was entailed in the lumber district.

SEABRIGHT, N. J., Aug. 13.—In the international cricket match the Canadian team scored 123 runs in their first inning and 13 in their second without losing a wicket. The United States made but 55 runs in their first inning.

READING, Aug. 15.—A large crowd of people attended the Methodist camp-meeting at Joanne Heights to-day. No one was admitted within the enclosure unless provided with a ticket purchased during the week. A crowd being refused admittance, broke down the fences and went in and out unmolested. No arrests were made, although policemen were present to preserve order.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—Daniel Madigan, teamster, fell from the roof of his house this afternoon, and received injuries from which he died soon after. In his fall he struck Thos. Donovan, aged 12 years, who was passing along the street, and when Donovan was picked up it was found that his right leg was fractured and that he was so badly hurt internally that he will probably die.

WASHINGTON Aug. 14.—The president to-day appointed William T. Newman to be United States district judge for the northern district of Georgia, Thomas B. Yancey to be United States marshal for the western district of Tennessee, and Thomas W. Scott to be United States marshal for the eastern district of Virginia.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The steamship Servia did not arrive to-day as expected. The reception committee appointed by President Egan, of the Irish national league, to receive the Irish delegates left the barge office at 1 p. m. in the steamboat Florence for Quarantine. It was headed by General Kerwin and accompanied by a number of invited guests. The party waited at Quarantine until after 8 o'clock, and having heard nothing of the steamship at that time returned to the city for the night.

Sent to Mexico.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—It can now be authoritatively stated that Mr. A. G. Sedgwick, of New York, goes to Paso del Norte and Chiahuahua by request of Secretary Bayard. His mission is in no sense of a diplomatic nature, but is simply to secure for the Department of State fuller information with regard to the case. The records of Mexican Courts are not published as are those of this country, and the usual diplomatic channels through which they would be naturally sought are roundabout and slow, owing to the distance between the scene of the trial and the capital.

Mr. Sedgwick, in addition to securing the records, will look up all the facts in the case, and study its legal features, reporting fully and as early as possible to the Secretary. No further steps are contemplated by the department until he shall have made his report. His journey may be extended to the City of Mexico, but this is left for future determination. With regard to the rumored resignation of Minister Jackson it can be stated upon authority that his purpose to resign antedates the present controversies with Mexico, but he is expected to remain at his post until they are fully settled.

Editor Cutting's Case.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., August 16.—A special from the editor of the Binghamton Republican, dated to El Paso, says: "We visited the American Consul at Paso del Norte to-day. Judge Brigham had nothing further to communicate than has already been given to the public. He says, however, that Cutting was unfairly tried by star chamber proceedings, and that neither he nor Cutting knows just what the proceedings in the Court were or what Cutting was tried for. It is suspected that the Court records will be tampered with to cover some offenses. Cutting was interviewed to-day. He is firm in his course, and pins his expectations to the American eagle. There is some excited talk here, but the reports about war preparations either, here or across the river are all nonsense. El Paso and Paso del Norte are two of the quietest cities to be found. There are 300 soldiers doing police duty at Paso del Norte, but the Mexicans are sitting around saloons in utter ignorance of any war feeling. There is more evidence of life and animation on the American side of the river, as is natural for the more bustling Yankees, but no war talk is indulged in or thought of. The war is all further away, in Kansas, Missouri and New Mexico, where war is wanted by certain classes for speculative purposes."

The Convention.

HARRISBURG, August 17.—It has been definitely settled that ex-Congressman Elliott will be permanent chairman of the democratic state convention. The vigorous contest which is being waged for the head of the ticket has thrown all secondary questions in the shade. The following ticket, as one likely to be nominated, is being discussed late to-night Black for governor, Ricketts for lieutenant-governor, Guthrie for auditor-general, Stevenson for congressman at-large, and Africa for internala ffairs. Wallace's chances seem, however, to be almost if not quite as good as Black's.

The building of a platform promises to give trouble. Half a dozen of them are already made, have been brought here and generally all agree except upon three points: The tariff, liquor question and anti-discrimination. The Black people, who are understood of course to be inspired by Randall, propose to fight for a resolution referring to the tariff plank of the Chicago platform adopted in 1884. Some of Wallace's friends desire to make an issue with Randall and endorse the principal of the Morrison bill, but a great many of the Wallace men object to this. On this point, therefore, it is pretty certain that Randall will be sustained and his plank adopted, but it is doubtful whether the Black proposition, declaring for high license and sumptuary laws will prevail. If Wallace wins in the convention, it will not, but a modified plank on the liquor question, which has not yet been fully agreed upon, but which is to be in a measure conciliatory to the temperance people, will be inserted. The fight here is likely to be a tight one and the anti-discrimination fight will be as to whether a resolution in general term in favor of a rigid enforcement of the constitution or a specific one setting forth the terms of article 17 of the constitution and a demand of the enforcement of the terms shall be adopted. Some are in favor of more specific declarations. The balance of the platform will endorse the state and national administration; will take the stand that the revenue from liquor licenses, mercantile taxes, etc., be turned over to the counties, and favor the arbitration of differences between labor and capital.

Mexico May Back Down.

EL PASO, Tex, August 17.—Rumors are current here that large bodies of Mexican troops are streaming into Chihuahua. The arrival of Special Envoy Sedgwick is anxiously awaited by both sides. He will spend a few days in Paso del Norte and then go to Chihuahua, where will stay a week, and then, if he should decide to go on to the City of Mexico, he would remain on his trip at least two weeks longer.

The tone of the daily papers in the City of Mexico show that so far the Mexicans have kept a stiff upper lip, but it looks as though they would like to get out of the Cutting affair if they could do so without squarely backing down. The affair will probably be managed by the supreme court of Chihuahua reversing the decision of the lower court at Paso del Norte, and ordering the release of the prisoner. Cutting then would have a heavy claim for damages.

Six Deaths from Heat.

ST. LOUIS, August 17.—The excessive heat continues. Up to noon to-day several deaths from sunstroke and heat were reported at the coroner's office. Among fatal cases are: George Fillo, laborer, 27 years, sunstruck this morning, died, Bridget Gannon, No. 1412 North Main street, found dead in her bed this morning, heat. Bernard Miller, No. 1027 North Eighteenth street, found dead in bed, heat. John Zarwick, German printer, sunstruck, died this morning. Thomas Kunz, carriage driver, overcome by heat last evening, died at the hospital, as did also Thos. Burke from the same cause.

Lycoming Nominations.

WILLIAMSPORT, August 17.—The Lycoming county Democratic convention to-day made the following nominations: Legislature, C. W. Williamson, John Van Vorce, G. W. Taylor. V. H. Metzgar was endorsed for state senator. No nominations were made for congress. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the state and national administrations.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

Meeting of the Unionville Temperance Society.

The Temperance Society at Unionville expect to have an unusually interesting meeting on Saturday evening, the 28th instant. In addition to a large number of readings and recitations, the following topic will be debated, "Resolved, that he who has passed through life and withstood the temptations of intoxicating drinks, deserves more credit than he who has drank deeply and reformed." The discussion will be opened by Mrs. Edith Cleaver on the affirmative and by Miss Mary E. Griest, principal of the Unionville select school, on the negative, to be followed by Prof. W. C. Miller, affirmative, and Wm. P. Fisher, Jr., negative.

The choir will sing some of their pretty songs, duets, solos, etc., among which is the beautiful quartette by Will Thompson, entitled "Come where the lilies bloom." A grand and enjoyable time is anticipated. All are invited to attend.

--In the regular place to day will be found the announcement of George M. Boal, of Potter township, that he is willing to be a candidate for the nomination to the office of Prothonotary. We have heretofore spoken of Mr. Boal's candidacy with encouragement, and are glad that he is willing to accept the nomination. He is a gentleman of unusual intelligence and has to a great extent the confidence of the citizens of the county. In addition to that, his qualifications peculiarly fit him for the office, being a gentleman of business experience, a fine penman and courteous and obliging in his relations with others.

It is Said—

That W. E. Gray makes a good presiding officer.

That Charley Cook is a good man to appoint on committee because he always forges ahead and completes what he undertakes to do.

That Francis Speer was a visitor at the Beaver Club room Tuesday evening and there are hopes for him, politically, even yet.

That James Kinsloe, the telegraph messenger, although not large, can do more effective execution when at a well spread dinner table than a half dozen ordinary people. He proved this on Tuesday.

That the tax notices people are receiving just about this time are enough to frighten any one.

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the Bar of Centre County the second week of Court at August Term was dispensed with, and all jurors drawn and summoned for the second week of said Court, on the 5th Monday of August, are notified not to attend.

By order of the Court,

—There are between 60 and 70 men now at work at and near the site of the new iron furnace. Most of them are employed by Charles and R. L. McCafferty in changing the course of Logan Branch creek. It will be made to run near the railroad and the present bed of the creek will be filled up with cinder from the new furnace. The ground has been broken for the furnace building.

—A little green apple hung up in a tree, singing "Johnnie, come Johnnie, come Johnnie!" And it was as modest as modest could be singing "Johnnie, come Johnnie, come Johnnie!" And Johnnie he came in his sweet childish way, and ate up the fruit as his own lawful prey. The angels in heaven are singing to-day "Here's Johnnie! Here's Johnnie! Here's Johnnie!"

—A valuable tract of ore land, known as the Grazier tract, near Gatesburg, in Ferguson township, this county, has been purchased by R. B. Wigton & Sons. The sale is conditional, and depends on the success of an effort to obtain lands adjoining belonging to George W. Lyon of Pennsylvania Furnace. If this purchase is completed a new furnace will be erected there.

Is your name on the registry list? If you are not certain of that, see to it at once; and if you do not see it there do not delay an hour to register. Thursday, September 2, is the last day to attend to this duty.

SPECIAL MENTION.

—See advertisement on fifth page: PHILADELPHIA WEEKLY PRESS free.

—The Baldwin locomotive works are now engaged as an experiment in the construction of what are known as soda engines. They are run by means of impregnating soda with the steam, which acts on soda as heating, and takes the place of coal under the boiler. The soda can be used many times by soaking it with the steam until it is perfectly saturated with water. These soda engines are to be used as street car motors in Minneapolis. They have already been run with great success in Minneapolis.

A Healthy Body and a Clear Head.

If indigestion, constipation and biliousness torment the body, the head cannot be clear. These disorders react upon the brain most hurtfully, and produce a cloudiness in the organ of thought not experienced by a healthy man. Happily these brain-oppressing maladies may be entirely dispelled by that peerless alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which cheers, refreshes and invigorates the brain and nerves, while it regulates the organs of digestion, assimilation and billious secretion. It expels the morbid humors which poison the system through the bowels and urinary passages, and exerts a powerful invigorating influence as well. Its cathartic action is never irritating, violent or painful, but even, natural and progressive. As an appetizer and sleep promoter, the Bitters is unrivaled; it mitigates the infirmities of age, relieves the ailments peculiar to the gentler sex, arrests premature decay, and builds up an enfeebled physique.

—There was an enjoyable cave party on Saturday. We understand that the party included only seven or eight persons, five of whom were from Altoona, viz., Miss Black, the two Misses Straub, Mr. Frees and Mr. Letterman. Miss Sternberg and Mr. Musser, of Bellefonte, were also in the company. They inspected the cave and, returning, remained on top of the mountain until quite late in the evening, coming home by moonlight.

Can't Make Anything Like It.

Simmon's Liver Regulator is steadily gaining popularity, and is one of the indispensables in every family that has given it a trial. No other remedy within my knowledge can fill its place. I have been practicing medicine for 20 years, and have never been able to put up a vegetable compound that would, like Simmon's Liver Regulator, promptly and effectively move the liver to action and at the same time aid, instead of weakening, the digestive and assimilative powers of the system.

Meeting of Executive Committee of the Centre County Veteran Club.

In pursuance to a call dated August 10th, the following members of the Executive Committee of the Centre County Veteran Club met at the office of the Secretary at 2 o'clock p. m. on Saturday, the 14th day of August, viz:

Geo. M. Boal, vice president (member ex-officer.)

Austin Curtin, treasurer (member ex-officer.)

H. H. Benner, secretary, (member ex-officer.

Samuel H. Williams,(chairman), Bellefonte.

Wm. A. Ishler, Benner township.
H. C. Holter, Howard borough.
John A. Daley, Curtin township.
C. D. Runkle, Potter "
George P. Hall, Union "
D. C. Walter, Walker "

The meeting was called to order and its object stated by the Secretary. The following resolutions were offered:

Resolved, That on account of the Grand Army day at Lewisburg, which occurs on Thursday, Sept. 9th, just two days prior to the basket picnic of the Centre County Veterans (the two being so near together as to conflict to the injury of both), that we, the members of the Executive Committee, agree to postpone the basket picnic of the Centre County Veteran Club for one week.

Resolved, That it be held at or near Lemont (the place fixed for holding the next annual picnic of the club), on Saturday, the 18th day of September.

On motion of Jno. A. Daley, Austin Curtin was made a committee on transportation, rates of fare, &c., with power to call assistance from members of the Executive Committee, if necessary.

After some little discussion and the consideration of different matters pertaining to the good of the Club, Austin Curtin offered the following:

WHEREAS, There are very many members of the Club in arrears for dues, it appears necessary and would be for the good of the Club if they were exonerated from the payment of all back dues.

Resolved, That all delinquents be and are hereby exonerated from the payment of dues up to September 1886.

And it is further resolved that section 4 of the by-laws be amended so as to read fifty cents for membership fee and twenty-five cents dues, instead of one dollar fee and fifty cents for dues.

And whereas in several instances persons not belonging to the Club have been appointed on committees, it is hereby agreed, that none but members be appointed to serve on committees.

The foregoing resolutions and motions were unanimously adopted by the committee and ordered to be placed on the minute record of the Club.

The committee respectfully ask that its action be confirmed by the Club at its next meeting.

The following committees were then appointed—

On Speakers and other arrangements. S. H. Williams, Jno. I. Curtin, D. S. Keller.

On Music—S. H. Williams (chairman) with power to select his associates and to make all arrangements for the music.

On motion, the committee adjourned sine die. H. H. BENNER, Sec.

Events at Unionville.

Rev. Laning and family moved to their new house in this place on the 12th inst., and met with a pleasant surprise on their arrival by finding a sumptuous dinner prepared for them.

About two weeks ago Mr. T. J. Taylor gave a lecture before the temperance meeting and impressed the horrors of intemperance upon the minds of the children by means of magic lantern scenes. We believe he has since started out on a lecturing tour in the interest of temperance.

Mrs. Hannah Greenleaf and husband, Jersey City, N. J., are visiting friends in this place and Julian. She is a daughter of the late Dr. Underwood, formerly a resident of this town.

Mr. Elwood Fisher, one of the four young men who left here last spring for a "trip west," has just returned to his father's house well pleased with his ramble. He was as far West as Denver, Col.

Mr. Wolf, the superintendent, arrived here on Monday morning and proceeded at once to hold an examination of teachers for the public schools. Quite a large class was examined, principally ladies.

We observed P. Gray Meek and daughter wending their way to the depot this (Monday) morning. Presume they were just returning from their summer cottage on Benner's Run.

A new school house is soon to be built in Union township on the turnpike about two and a half miles above Unionville.

The Beaver boom is quietly growing and many Democrats feel like falling into line. J.

—The 13th annual picnic of the Patrons of Husbandry of this county, will be held on top of Nittany mountain on Thursday, the 16th day of September. Among those who will be present are Hon. U. will speak on temperance. There will be music, the grounds will be pleasingly decorated and manufacturers and farmers are invited to exhibit their wares and products. It will be a very enjoyable occasion.

PURE IS THE ABSOLUTE NECESSITY OF HEALTH. BLOOD

THE marvellous results of HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA upon all humors and low conditions of the blood (as proven by the cures effected) prove it the best BLOOD MEDICINE. Such has been the success of this article at home that nearly every family in whole neighborhoods have been taking it at the same time. It eradicates scrofula, vitalizes and enriches the blood, thereby restoring and renovating the whole system. Hood's SARSAPARILLA purifies the blood. Hood's SARSAPARILLA cures dyspepsia. Hood's SARSAPARILLA cures biliousness. A peculiar point in Hood's SARSAPARILLA is that it builds up and strengthens the system, while it eradicates disease, and as nature's great assistant proves itself invaluable as a protection from diseases that originate in changes of the seasons, of climate and of life.

PLOWS.

Thorough plowing and pulverization of the soil is the foundation upon which the successful farmer builds his prosperity. To accomplish this, the character of the plow becomes a matter of the first importance. We present the

to our farmer friends with the assurance that it is not a new invention; nevertheless, it embodies all the improvements known to plow manufacturers. It has an established and enviable reputation, of MANY YEARS STANDING, as being the best bevel land side plow now in use. We assure our friends that a BEVEL LAND SIDE PLOW is superior to any straight land side plow.

The ROLAND CHILLED PLOW is manufactured of the best material, and is of the most perfect workmanship. The parts subject to wear are so chilled as to give strength as well as durability.

Its construction warrants light draft, and it runs so steady that a boy who can drive the team can man the plow—either for two or three horses—and execute the best mechanical plowing.

It will clean or scour in any soil from the start. It is furnished with solid or slip-pointed shares for ordinary or deep plowing. It is equally a successful plow in soft, hard or gravelly soil, and will turn a furrow up hill as complete as on the level ground.

We invite a critical examination of the construction of this plow as well as a thorough test in plowing.

We offer it for sale at remarkably low prices, and on liberal terms.

We keep a stock of shares and other parts for the OLIVER and SYRACUSE Chilled Plows.

—)o(—

CULTIVATORS.

—)THE(—

are the farmers favorite, and need no commendation from us. We are the authorized agents for their sale in this part of Centre county. The CHAMPION is the new Hench walking cultivator, a remarkably neat and well constructed implement, and is a credit to the skill and workmanship of these leading cultivator manufacturers. We invite those in want of cultivators to inspect those on exhibition at our store. We can assure our friends that there are no other cultivators in the market equal to the HENCH.

One-horse Cultivators and Shovel Plows that defy competition in prices.

HAY RAKES.

We are selling the

horse hay rake for $16.50, and a better rake for $17.50. We sell the hay rake, which is the best hay rake in the world, at astonishingly low prices.

TIGER SELF-DUMP

HAY TEDDERS.

The large crop of grass now growing, will be hard to handle unless farmers use hay tedders. The

BURDICK

HAY TEDDER is the BEST.

HAY FORKS! Double Harpoon Hay Forks. Priee, $1.25 each.

GRAIN DRILLS.

We are the authorized agents for the sale of the CHAMPION and PENNSYLVANIA GRAIN DRILLS. These drills are complete in construction, and are guaranteed to sow grain, seed and fertilizers in the best farmer-like manner. We are prepared to furnish these drills at prices which will justify farmers in buying them. Farmers in want of drills will promote their interests by calling on us and examine the drills and prices for themselves.

Buggies and Platform Spring Wagons.

A customer after examining our spring wagons, a few days ago, said we had the best wagons for the least money he had seen in Centre county.

Auburn Road and Farm Wagons.

These wagons are made to our order; with steel skeins or steel axles, and we offer them to our customers with full confidence that they are the best wagons ever sold in this vicinity.

—)o(—

Fruit Evaporators. The outlook for a large crop of good fruit is very favorable. A fruit evaporator does not cost so much money, nevertheless, it can be made more profitable than a cider mill. An elegant opportunity for families of two or three boys to learn a new business and make some money. Call and examine the sample at our store.

—)o(—

FERTILIZERS.

We sell six grades of fertilizers; we assure the farmers of Centre county that we deal in no shoddy goods. In purchasing, the quality is our first consideration and we guarantee every grade of fertilizer we sell is of the quality represented.

CROCKERS' BUFFALO HONEST FERTILIZER

of which we are Sole Agents in this territory, needs no commendation at our hands. It has always realized to the farmer a fair equivalent for the money invested.

In addition to the above we have arranged for the balance of our stock with the Chemical Co. of Canton, located in a suburb of the city of Baltimore, Md.

This company is composed of the Bakers of Baltimore, who formerly conducted the business in their own name and is a house of undoubted reputation for furnishing exactly what they represent.

From this company we obtain five grades of fertilizers—

Dissolved South Carolina Bone,
Dissolved South Carolina Bone and Potash,
Soluable Alkaline Bone Phosphate,
Resurgam Guano and Bakers Standard Guano;

either of which is of the highest standard of quality in its class.

We sold this brand of DISSOLVED SOUTH CAROLINA BONE or ROCK in the vicinity of the Pennsylvania State College last fall—1885—in competition with two other brands, all of which were analyzed at that institution. The Rock we sold proved to be fifty eight cents per ton more valuable than one of its competitors, and four dollars and forty eight cents per ton more valuable than the other, all of which were sold to the farmers at about the same price. This fact should induce farmers to buy fertilizers from dealers who know what they are selling and have the common honesty to sell what they represent.

We invite a careful inspection of the quality of the fertilizers we offer for sale, as well as the prices of the same, including such information as we are always prepared to furnish thereto.

—)o(—

HYDRAULIC CEMENT.

We have been induced to enter into the cement business, for the reason that MR. WILLIAM SHORTLIDGE'S long connection with the Water Works of Bellefonte gave him an extended opportunity to see the effects of using poor and standard cements. We can assure our customers that the cements in which we deal are of uniform quality and of the highest standard of excellence.

We carry a stock of

AKRON, ROSENDALE "Hoffman Brand," and the ENGLISH PORTLAND.

The AKRON has been manufactured during the last 60 years and has been used in the construction of some of the most elaborate Railroad bridges and reservoirs in the United States. Thomas Collins, the well known railroad contractor, informs us that he has used thousands of barrels of it, who recommends it as being a most excellent article. The AKRON cement is being used in the construction of the Croton aequeduct, which will convey water forty two miles to the city of New York. This of itself, is a sufficient guarantee of its superior quality.

We sell the ROSENDALE cement "Hoffman Brand," which is so well known that it needs no commendation at our hands. We keep in stock the ENGLISH PORTLAND cement, the best artificial cement in the world.

—)o(—

We exercise our best judgment in purchasing stock, and spare no efforts to furnish what we represent and trust the community will appreciate our motives by favoring us with a share of their patronage.

There is a growing practice of venders calling on farmers to sell them their supplies, who succeed in obtaining higher prices for what they sell, with dinner and horse feed thrown in, than the same articles can be purchased of us at our store. We invite farmers to investigate this matter, examine articles and prices before making up their minds to purchase. Visitors are ALWAYS WELCOME whether they buy or not, and WE TAKE PLEASURE IN EXHIBITING WHAT WE HAVE TO SELL

Confident of a Peaceful Settlement.

NEW YORK, August 11.—Consul General Navarra, the Mexican representative in this city, regards the war talk as nonsensical and admits that his country would be an easy prey for the United States. "It is a matter for discussion and arbitration," he said, "and it does not seem probable that the two governmants are going to act like a couple of school boys and come to blows over such a fellow as Cutting. There are many aspects of the case which admit of free discussion, and the governor of Chihuahua no doubt believes that his position is the right one.

Although Cutting printed his libel on American soil, he circulated it in Mexico, and thereupon became amenable to Mexican laws. Again, there is a clause in the code of Chihuahua making any one who commits a crime against a Mexican citizen amenable to Mexican laws, and if I am not mistaken, there is a similar clause in the Texas code. The reports of great excitemen t now ow ir along the border are undoubtedly fabrications. I am in daily communication with people in all parts of Mexico, and they insist that the matter has aroused only a local interest.

"I had to laugh, upon reading a dispatch alleged to have emanated from Governor Maceyra ordering that in case an attempt should be made to rescue Cutting that his head be cut off and presented to the rescuing party. I know the governor personally and am positive that he could not have been a party to any such order. He is an intelligent, well educated and conservative gentleman, well known to many Americans who have travelled in Mexico, and much admired by them. Cuting is receiving the best possible treatment. He is not confined in the jail proper, but occupies a room in the jailer's house, and enjoys other privileges not extended to other prisoners. I am positive that President Diaz and the minister of foreign affairs are anxious to adjust the matter amicably, and feel sure that an understanding will be reached that will be satisfactory in every way. It is great injustice to Mexicans to state that Americans are constantly persecuted and annoyed in Mexico as I am in this country. It is the criminal element that brings trouble on itself, and Mexico is blamed for enforcing its laws against it."

Bayard's Demand.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—As the result of a conversation last night with the secretary of the state it may be stated that there is absolutely no truth in the story sent out from the City of Mexico that our government has withdrawn its peremptory demand for Cutting's release, or changed its attitude in the case in any way. There is no disposition to hurry or embarrass the Mexican government or its courts, and the claim which its minister here makes, that it has a right to punish all American citizens for an offense committed in the United States will never be admitted tacitly or otherwise. The Mexican officials have not charged Cutting with circulating a libel in Mexico; they have charged him with uttering a libel in the United States. This is shown not only by the form of the charges, but by the fact that the Texas law has been taken into Mexican court and translated, by way of showing the act of Cutting was an offense in the jurisdiction where it was committed.

The case cited by Mexican authorities of a Mexican who committed an offense in the United States and was punished for it by Mexico, is not a case in point, because our government cannot concern itself about what Mexico does with her own citizens. Neither are libel suits in France and England against the owner of a New York paper cases in point, for they were civil suits, and they were based on the circulation of the illegal libel in the countries where suits were brought—an allegation not made in this case. Mexico has distinctly claimed the right to punish a citizen of the United States for an offense committed in the United States by a criminal prosecution, and our government will not assent to this in any form.

A Terrific Rain Storm.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 11.—Last night there was a terrific rain storm on the Petersburg and Weldon railroad. During the storm a water spout passed over and burst as it reached the railroad at Otter Dam creek, the immense volume of water sweeping away a long stretch of track and the stone abutments of the iron bridge spanning the creek. This morning the through train from the south dashed into the washout, carrying down the engine and several cars. In consequence of the washout, trains from the south were delayed. It is expected that the road will be clear to-night.

Later advices from the accident of the Petersburg and Weldon railroad at Otter Dam creek report that two colored train hands are missing, and it is thought that their bodies are buried beneath the wreck of the cars in the creek.

Want to Discharge Union Men.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 12.—The Central Labor union believes that it has got at last a genuine fighting issue with the brewers who have been quietly testing their union employes ever since the latter part of May, when Senaider's and Stifel's beer was boycotted by the union. Last night, at the regular meeting of the union, Richard Schlagintweit, delegate from the Brewers' union, of which he is president, read to the assembly a series of resolutions, which he said had been presented to the brewers at their last meeting and had been adopted and signed by all of them except Miller Bros. The resolution declared that unless the boycott was removed by September 4 every union man in their employ would be discharged. The resolutions were referred to a committee of three to be presented to the local unions for action. President Schlaintweit said after the meeting that the brewers had been hurt by the boycott which will not be removed but be made the firmer.

Briefs.

NEWS YORK, August 11.—It is now stated that Charles J. Campbell, general manager of Steinway and Hunter's Point railroad, who disappeared recently, is a heavy defaulter. The telegrams from him to his wife from New Jersey are believed to be a blind, and he is generally thought to have gone to Canada.

NEW YORK, August 11.—The greenback state convention to-day voted to hold a convention at Albany, September 21. Gideon J. Tucker seems to be the choice for judge of the court of appeals, the only state officer to be elected.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., August 11.—John C. Nelson, of Cass county, was nominated for lieutenant governor by acclamation. The other nominations are as follows: Supreme court judge, John B. Coffroth; R. W. Megor, secretary of state; C. A. Munson, auditor of state; treasurer of state, Thomas B. Byrne.

WASHINGTON, August 11.—A cable message from Serra Leone announces the death of Rev. Moses A. Hopkins, minister resident and consul general from the United States to Siberia. No particulars are given.

CHICAGO Aug. 12.—The disagreement between the Grand Trunk company and the switchmen was satisfactorily settled this noon by the reinstatement of Switchman Harnett. A strike which seemed imminent was probably averted. Harnett had been discharged from the Grand Trunk company for his supposed interference with the Lake Shore road during its recent strike.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—All the executive departments were represented at the cabinet meeting to-day. The was session mainly devoted to the consideration of the Mexican question and financial policy of the administration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Mr. Frank Howard, of Ithaca, N. Y., who has been visiting his brother here, was found in his room last night with a bullet wound in his head. When found the young man was unconscious, and he died in a few hours later. The circumstances surrounding the case lead to the belief that the shooting was accidental.

BELFAST, Aug. 12.—The city has been quiet to-day. The patrols are retained. The people dread the withdrawal of the military. The Catholic Bishop has prohibited Catholic parades during the remainder of the year.

HARRISBURG, August 12.—At the meeting of the executive committee of the State Firemen's association here to-day it was decided to hold the first session of the annual convention at Altoona, September 21.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—The hundred and fortieth call for the redemption of bonds was issued to-day and is for ten million three per cent. bonds of 1882. Interest will cease on the 15th of September next.

PEORIA Ill., August 12.—Fire at Metamora, Woodford county, at 1:30 last night, destroyed four two-story brick stores belonging to Peter Sherts, and occupied as a grocery and bank, hardware store and harness shop, and also a grocery store of Schultz & Co. The loss is $25,000; insurance, $19,500. Origin of the fire unknown.

COLUMBIA, August 12.—The Susquehanna rolling mill people at Columbia having adjusted matters satisfactorily with their employes will start their mill at once.

WORCESTER, Mass., August 12.—Hanlan rowed three miles with a turn on Lake Quinsegamond to-day in 19 minutes and 23 seconds, beating all his previous records.

GALVESTON, August 12.—The democrats to-day nominated General L. C. Ross for Governor. Resolutions were adopted endorsing the Administration of Cleveland and declaring it the duty of the general government to protect and defend the humblest American citizens against unlawful acts of any and all nations, and that decisive action in demanding indemnity for past and existing grievances and security for the future will meet with the unqualified approval of the democracy of Texas.

Forest Fires.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 11.—The reports to-day from the scene of the forest fires are not reassuring. Although no more towns have been burned, and temporary relief has been given by local showers at several points which were in the most danger, the condition of the people at Spencer, the village on the Wisconsin Central which was burned on Sunday, is described as pitiful. Many are still unable to get shelter, and there is actual suffering for want of food, while the small portion of the town which was not burned is still threatened by the fires, and constant vigilance is required. Neighboring towns have sent in several carloads of food and clothing to supply the temporary wants of the sufferers.

A resident of Spencer who was in Milwaukee yesterday says the situation there was indescribable. The village is in the centre of a clearing, and there was no place of refuge for the people. While one quarter of the town was burning they occupied another. The smoke was so thick that many women and children were made sick by it, and dead chickens and hogs lay scattered along the street. The hotel, which is not insured, still stands, but buildings on both sides of it are burned.

Getting Ready for the Fray.

SHENANDOAH, August 12.—The patrotic feeling of the veterans of this borough has been aroused by the prospect of a conflict with Mexico to such an extent that two companies of volunteers are being organized with a view to tendering their services to the government. W. Jeff Haverstock, a veteran of the late war, has enrolled upwards of one hundred men with a view to forming a company of light artillery, and Captain Joe Waddinger, also a veteran, has organized a company of infantry one hundred and twenty-five strong. Both companies are prepared to answer a call on the shortest possible notice.

"You may remember I spoke to you about having been afflicted with severe sick headaches. Well, some time ago I began using Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" in faint hope of relief. To my delight, and rather to my surprise, I have never had an attack since. How thankful I am I need hardly tell you. I heartily wish that all women tortured in this way knew how certain and pleasant a cure "Favorite Remedy" is. Sarah J. Woodruff, Newburg, N. Y.

—The Baptist church at Port Matilda will be dedicated August 22.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetation remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all Throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after testing its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. A. NOYES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. 18 11 1y

—The verdict already is that trade is better since the opening up of the iron business more extensively.

Base Ball Lectures.

We don't like to mount the platform and deliver lectures, but we suppose we must do so in this instance as we have received two requests to "go for" certain offenders who frequent the base ball grounds, and we feel sufficiently indignant to do so.

First, we shall address ourselves to that numerous class denominated the "small boy." We want him to read it and other people can skip it. Boys, when you are witnessing a game and the visiting nine makes a bad play, don't get up an excitement over that fact. Leave that kind of action for such small boys as attend State College or to some infant who was reared in the back woods and never saw a base ball. If you want to groan, utter a cat call or give other expression to your feelings go away about a mile and voice your sentiments to the pine trees or to the twittering birds. The reason we say this to you is because we want you to impress visitors with the fact that you are well bred boys. A well bred boy will treat visitors with courtesy and never tell them to go home and play marbles.

We have reserved our greatest indignation for the fence jumper. He is a species of individual quite numerous in Bellefonte. In most other things he acts honorably, but he has cultivated that objectionable habit of fence jumping without thinking how mean it is. In comparison with him the dude is respectable and he is, in this particular on a level with the sneak thief. Just think of it. The base ball players furnish amusement for you and contract with a visiting nine to pay them a certain sum, confident that an appreciative public, even if it will not give something outright to the base ball interests, will at least be honorable enough to pay 25 cents to witness the game. Then some individual worth $15,000 or $20,000 will go out the rear way, hunt a convenient spot, vault over the fence and look at the game for nothing. Oh, but such a thing is despisable! Why, we are told that if one-fourth of the fence jumpers who saw Wednesday's game had paid a quarter each the Bellefonte boys would have raised the $25 to pay to Tyrone. As it was, they were "short" a considerable sum and had to make it up out of their own pockets. Now, fence jumpers, don't you consider yourself very small? Don't you feel like making a pin-hole in a last year's chestnut and crawling inside to hide yourself?

Items from Glen Harris—Chiefly about the Saw Mill.

I beg permission to contribute a few lines to your paper.

Our mill is running steadily with U. Witherite, our 310-pound man, for sawyer, who says that if his hands do stick fast to the lever once in a while that they will not stick fast to any more molasses receipts.

Wm. Gardner, the lath sawyer, handles his machine with an ease that evinces how skillful he is in the business.

John A. Crotzer, the famous shingle sawyer, sawed 111,000 shingles in 65 hours on an old style Parker machine. This averages over 1,700 an hour or more than 28 shingles per minute.

H. E. Walker, our lumber piler, thinks he would rather pile lumber than jack logs, as the logs generally get the advantage of him and jack him into the water. The lumber don't do that.

E. A. Walker, the lumber counter, is continually longing for the mill to shut down so he can hear the whistle of his own engine blow, instead of Crider's. His engine is now standing in the yard of Messrs. Bush & Buck in your town.

Other celebrated workmen are E. U. Campbell, shipping boss, who is expert in the art of shipping lumber and likes to handle 24-inch shingles, and D. B. Rider, engineer.

The mill is under the management of W. T. Shirk, who is operating it by contract. After closing the business here he will probably run for Squire, as he will soon be the equal of U. Witherite in weight.

Uncle Joe Thompson shows much deftness in dealing out his own (cow-pens) coupons.

Hip, hip! for General Beaver!

Wm. Frieze, Sr., died on the 9th of August between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock p. m. He was formerly a citizen of Snow Shoe and was well known by the entire community of this section for his many good qualities. His wife and several children will mourn his death.

JACK.

—The great Penn cave is constantly becoming more interesting and growing in public favor, but it is not yet appreciated sufficiently, nor is the proper interest shown towards making it more attractive and inviting. It might become as celebrated as the famous Luray caves or as the Mammoth cave. It has not the vastness of the latter, but it is almost as interesting.

—Rev. R. Crittenden has returned home from a missionary tour to Potter county, the northern end of Lycoming and the southern part of Tioga counties. During his trip he visited several places where he had never been before and where his presence was very welcome.

—The average young man remarks that he never before saw Bellefonte so full of lovely girls as at present. Every new face he meets attracts his attention and gallantry.

A Great Snake Story.

Some people were disposed to discredit the item published two weeks ago in this paper that Harry Yeager and his men had killed seven or eight rattlesnakes where they are getting out stone on Snow Shoe mountain during the present season, but nevertheless, the item was true. We are informed, however, that from the time the item appeared until Wednesday, the 11th, no snake was seen in that vicinity. Probably the public notice made of the snakes cause them to retire for a brief period.

On Wednesday the rattlesnakes and one blacksnake returned to the attack. Miss Susan Fogle, Mr. Yeager's sister-in-law, who is well-known in town, keeps the boarding house, and temporarily left her kitchen. When she returned she discovered that an immense blacksnake had possession. Some ladies would have run screaming for assistance. Not so with Miss Fogle. She attacked the snake with a billet of wood and soon placed the snake hors de combat. When assistance came the snake was dead. It was more than five feet in length. The same day the men killed two rattlesnakes.

Persons inquiring for letters named in the above list will please say advertised.

Organizing a Minstrel Troupe.

Mr. McMillen's minstrel troupe—at least part of it—was in town Friday and practiced for future performances. From all we can hear on the subject, we have reason to believe that it will be a very fine company. Mr. McMillen has good capacity as a manager and would not take any talent that is not strictly first-class. The initial performance is to be given in Bellefonte under the auspices of the G. A. R. post. Their rehearsal awakened considerable interest on the part of our citizens and doubtless their first performance will be given to the largest audience Humes' Hall ever contained.

In a Quandary.

Fred. Kurtz, of Centre Hall, came to town Friday morning with the purpose of talking over the situation with some of the local Democratic bosses who bask in the cool shades of the Court House. A look of great distress was noticed on his countenance and those with whom he talked seemed to be careworn and anxious. It is evident that the present condition of things is not at all satisfactory, but how to remedy it is a conclusion they cannot agree upon. At latest reports they had not found a way out of their difficulty.

—On the Bald Eagle mountain near Fowler, in this county, the other day, seventy-five snakes were killed by one person. A son of Lieut. George Gensimer, of Tyrone, in company with several other persons, was in that vicinity when he came across a large copperhead. He dispatched the monster and afterwards found about seventy-five snakes, from five to eight inches in length, inside the large snake. They were also killed. These small snakes had followed their usual habit of crawling inside their mother and hence were easily killed.

—Mrs. Brockerhoff, who resides at the corner of Bishop and Spring streets, is much annoyed by boys who jump over the fence around her property and take apples, pears and such other fruit as may be convenient. They have the boldness to do this in broad day light, and if the first fruit don't suit their fastidious taste they throw it on the ground and take another. This practice is simply astonishing. Permit us to inform the "boys" that this property does not belong to them and if they really want some of it they should go to the lady of the house and ask for it.

—Mrs. Emma Frances Shaw committed suicide at the St. James Hotel, Pittsburg, on Thursday. She had given some poison to her little son, Willie, but not sufficient to kill him. The lad said they came from California. His mother and father were constantly quarreling and she left him. She was on her way to Williamsport, where his uncle, Brack Shaw, is general manager of the electric light company. The husband and father were also in the electric light business. Only 39 cents were found in the dead woman's purse.

Accident to the Misses Schaeffer.

We hear that Misses Kate and Mable Schaeffer, daughters of ex-Sheriff Schaeffer, who were in town on Wednesday last, met with an accident while riding from here to their home in Nittany Hall. Their horse ran away and both of them were thrown from the conveyance and hurt. Miss Mable's injuries are reported to be the most serious, although we hope the rumors in regard to that may be exagerated.

Second Meeting of the Beaver Club.

On Friday evening the second meeting of the Beaver Home Club was held in Hastings & Reeder's law office. There was a large attendance and much interest was shown. Among the welcome visitors was Col. A. Wilson Norris, of Philadelphia, who was personally introduced to each member of the club.

The report of the committee on permanent organization being called for, the chairman read a report which resulted in the choice of officers as follows: President, Lawrence L. Brown; vice president, W. E. Gray; recording secretary, J. A. Fiedler; treasurer, W. B. Rankin; corresponding secretary, D. Bates Bell.

The Military committee also reported Major Harry S. Hale as major of battalion. The club will constitute a battalion, to be divided into companies of about 40 each.

The committee on constitution and by-laws reported progress.

Chairman Charles F. Cook for the committee on rooms, reported that the large room on the third floor of the Centre county bank building can be secured, and the club adopted a motion to secure the room for its use.

A motion was also adopted to invite all organizations who favor the election of the Republican State ticket to meet in the room.

Capt. Mullen said that the Armory Hall may be used by the battalion for drilling purposes, if desired, and a vote of thanks was tendered him for his generous offer.

Messrs. Thomas Donachy, Dr. J. D. Geissinger and D. C. Monroe were appointed a committee to secure seats for the hall, and a committee, consisting of H. H. Harshberger, Esq., as chairman, Dr. Geissinger and G. D. Johnston, was appointed to report upon a proper style of uniforms to be worn by the members of the club.

The committee on transparencies consists of Messrs. William Hillibish, G. Wash Rees and J. M. Dale.

—The lawn party given on Wednesday evening, by Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Burnside at Howard, was the most delightful social event that has occurred in this vicinity for a long time. Among those present were thirty or forty people from Bellefonte and about twenty from Lock Haven. The lawn was illuminated by a large locomotive headlight. A dancing platform was erected where that favorite amusement was pursued with much zest and enjoyment. Dauer's orchestra from Lock Haven furnished the music. The refreshments were of the choicest description.

An Improvement Needed.

We don't believe that it would require very much money to make the skating rink present a much better appearance than it now does. At present it looks wonderfully desolate and shabby. It would be a happy idea to clean the windows, removing some of the cobwebs. Then we cannot but think that fresh paint would improve it wonderfully. Anything that the W. C. T. U. has anything to do with should look very neat and clean.

—We understand that a representation of the pleasing comedy, "A Lesson in Love," was given before a select company, at Mr. Geo. W. Jackson's residence Friday evening. The bright and accomplished young ladies who shine so resplendently in their separate roles excelled their previous efforts, and the entertained proved to be delightful.

—There is a tree growing in the woods on David Bartges' farm near Penn Hall which has two trunks that are separated from the ground to a height of about ten feet. At that height they unite and constitute but one perfectly formed tree. Anyone can walk between them beneath the point of intersection. The tree is a novelty.

—Rev. M. B. Laning has removed from Milesburg into his new house at Unionville. Before his departure from Milesburg the citizens of the town presented to him a valuable and appropriate testimonial of their esteem. Mr. Laning is a good citizen and an energetic, useful pastor.

For fifteen years I was annoyed with severe pain in my head and discharges into my throat from catarrh. My sense of smell was much impaired. By the use of Ely's Cream Balm I have overcome these troubles.—J.B. Case, St. Denis Hotel, New York.

It is now about five years since I first began selling Ely's Cream Balm, and from the time of its first introduction there has been a growing demand for it, and so far it has given very great satisfaction to my customers. I consider it a catarrh remedy of genuine merit. —A. B. Burns, Druggist, Montrose, Pa.

—Be careful in working with agricultural implements. Several slight accidents have been occasioned by them of late in this county, which show what serious results might ensue if they are not handled with care.

Thousands Say So,

Mr. T. W. Atkins, Girard, Kan., writes: "I never hesitate to recommend your Electric Bitters to my customers, they give entire satisfaction and are rapid sellers.' Electric Bitters are the purest and best medicine known and will positively cure kidney and liver complaints. Purify the blood and regulate the bowels. No family can afford to be without them. They will save hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills every year. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by J. ZELLER & SON.

—Herman Baumer, the new postmaster at Johnstown, began his duties last Monday.

—Hon. John D. Thompson, a prominent and much respected citizen of Curwensville, died Friday evening, aged about 75 years.

Of course when a man is sound and well he don't care a copper for all the medicine on the face of the earth. He has no use for it. But when disease is eating his life out he wants the right prescription and he wants it right away. For that reason all that know what Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is turn to that for help, and it never disappoints them. And it is just as beneficial to new friends as it is to old ones. Pleasant to the palate and gentle in its action.

—The storms of Friday afternoon extended into other parts of the state and the lightning in some places was fatal.

A Walking Skeleton.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes 'I was afflicted with lung fever and abscess on lungs, and reduced to a walking skeleton. Got a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 48 lbs."

Call at J. ZELLER & SON'S drug store and get a free trial bottle of this certain cure for all lung diseases. Large bottles $1.00.

—The ten-cent circus continues to linger in this vicinity although it does not visit Bellefonte.

The nervous, brain-working type of people, such as lawyers, clergymen, business men and students are the principal victims of hay fever. Sufferers may be certain that hay fever does not arise from an impure state of the blood. A local treatment is the only way to cure it. Judging from results, Ely's Cream Balm is the only specific yet discovered.

—The fall term of the Bellefonte Academy will open on Wednesday, September 8.

AN EXTRAORDINARY OFFER.

To All Wanting Employment.

We want Live, Energetic and Capable Agents in every county in the United States and Canada, to sell a patent article of great merit, on ITS MERITS. An article having a large sale, paying over 100 per cent profit, having no competition, and on which the agent is protected in the exclusive sale by a deed given for each and every county he may secure from us. With all these advantages to our agents and the fact that it is an article that can be sold to every householder, it might not be necessary to make an "EXTRAORDINARY OFFER" to secure good agents at once, but we have concluded to make it to show, not only our confidence in the merits of our invention, but in its salability by any agent that will handle it with energy. Our agents now at work are making from $150 to $500 a month clear and this fact makes it safe for us to make our offer to all who are out of employment. Any agent that will give our business a thirty days' trial and fail to clear at least $100 in this time, ABOVE ALL EXPENSES, can return all goods unsold to us and we will refund the money paid for them. Any agent or general agent who would like ten or more counties and work them through sub-agents for ninety days and fail to clear at least $750 ABOVE ALL EXPENSES, can return all unsold and get their money back. No other employer of agents ever dared to make such offers, nor would we if we did not know that we have agents now making more than double the amount we guaranteed, and but two sales a day would give a profit of over $125 a month, and that one of our agents took eighteen orders in one day. Our large descriptive circulars explain our offer fully, and these we wish to send to everyone out of employment who will send us three one cent stamps for postage. Send at once and secure the agency in time for the boom, and go to work on the terms named in our extraordinary offer. We would like to have the address of all the agents, sewing machine solicitors and canvassers in the country, and we pay postage to any paper who reads this offer, to send us at once the name and address of all such they know. Address at once, or you will lose the best chance ever offered for those out of employment. [illegible] MANUFACTURING CO. 100 Smithfield St., Pittsburg, Pa.

THE NARROW ESCAPE

Of a Massachusetts Engineer.

Sleep after fatigue and health after disease are two of the sweetest experiences known to me. Fourteen years is a long time to suffer, yet Mr. Peter Lawler, of Dalton, Mass., had led a miserable life for that period through the presence of stone in the bladder. He did obtain temporary relief, but nothing more. Last January he called on Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who said, after an examination: "Mr. Lawler, you have stone in the bladder. We will first try DR. DAVID KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY before risking an operation." A few days later the following letter

DALTON, Mass., Feb. 6.

DEAR DR. KENNEDY: The day after I came home I passed two gravel stones, and am doing nicely now. PETER LAWLER.

Dr. Kennedy now has the stones at his office, and they are sufficiently formidable to justify the claim that KENNEDY'S FAVORITE REMEDY is the leading specific for stone in the bladder. In his letter Mr. Lawler mentions that FAVORITE REMEDY also cured him of rheumatism. The subjoined certificate tells its own story:

OLD BERKSHIRE MILLS,
DALTON, Mass., April 27, 1882.

Mr. Peter Lawler has been a resident of this town for the past seventeen years, and in our employ for fifteen, and in all these years he has been a good and respected citizen of this town and community. He has had some chronic disease to our knowledge for most of the time, but now claims to be, and is, in apparent good health.

CHARLES O. BROWN, President.

Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy" (Rondout, N. Y.)—It is not a mere soother, temporarily, of pain, but by its alterative action purifies the blood, restores a healthful condition to the diseased organs, and even dissolves and causes the expulsion of gravel and stone from the kidneys and bladder. The testimony of hundreds who have been cured by it vouches for this.

Sunday in the Churches.

There was an excellent attendance at all the church services held on Sunday. The Presbyterian church was open for services only in the morning. Rev. J. H. Orbison officiated.

He took for his text the striking passage repeated several places in the Scriptures—among them Matthew 22:42—"The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner." The discourse was well conceived and carried out in a complete and interesting manner. The first part, which alluded to the rejected Stone (Christ) contained many sentences of beauty and impressiveness. Then he dwelt upon the astounding fact that such a perfect Stone, without a flaw, should be rejected, as the jeweler would reject an imperfect stone. After this he applied the 44th verse of the same chapter, "Whosoever shall fall on this Stone, shall be broken; but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder." This prophesy has been fulfilled in the history of nations and individuals. The concluding part of the sermon was on the subject of missions, showing their greater importance now than ever before in the world's history. The nations have been brought so much closer together by bands of steel and encircled by wires as to render them now much more our neighbors than they were in past ages.

HOW TO OBSERVE THE SABBATH.

The first of a series of sermons on the popular questions of the day was delivered by Rev. D. S. Monroe, D. D., in the Methodist church Sunday evening. In this sermon he told the large congregation how to observe the Sabbath. It was an instructive and striking discourse. He took for his text the 13th and 14th verses of the 58th chapter of Isaiah.

"If thou turn away thy foot from the Sabbath, from doing my pleasure on my holy day; and call the Sabbath a delight, the holy of the Lord, honorable; and shalt honor Him, not doing thy own ways, nor finding thy own pleasure, nor speaking thy own words;

"Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob, thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

He spoke of the origin of the Sabbath ante-dating the existence of nations. It was the crowning day of the work of creation—the first day of which it is was not said as having morning or evening, implying its perpetual observance. The number seven is an important one in the Bible and in the history of all nations. Many of the heathen nations—among them the Phoeniciane and the Chinese—once observed a Sabbath, though the latter nation now has no such sacred day. The observance of the Sabbath is a principle deeply imbedded in the human heart. No special reference is given to its observance in Patriarchial history, but the manna was supplied to the Israelites in a manner to imply the observance and sacredness of the day. They were to gather their supplies six days and on the sixth day they must collect enough for the seventh.

The day of observance had been appropriately changed from the seventh to the first. This still kept in observance the principal and spirit of the Divine command. It is manifestly impossible for all people to keep exactly the same day, as day does not exist at the same time in all parts of the world. It must be remembered that the seventh day of the world's history was really the first of man's history. The first day is also a memorial of the resurrection, and the early disciples met together on the first day of the week.

The observance of the Sabbath is necessary to the perpetuity of our Republican form of goverment. Those who desire its destruction are only such as want to pursue their business on that day or the foreigners who come to this country and do not understand our institutions and laws, and would have our sacred Sunday substituted by their Continental Sunday.

The observance of Sunday is necessary for the happiness and health of the workingman, as the selfishness of the employer will take away the rest of the Sabbath if its sacredness be eliminated from the hearts and affections of the people. The discourse contained too many arguments to give all of them. We feel certain that the large congregation was much impressed.

IN THE REFORMED CHURCH.

Very large congregations gathered in the Reformed church both morning and evening to hear Rev. W. H. H. Snyder, of Harrisburg. We regret that we could not be two places at once as both of his sermons—particularly that in the evening—were more than ordinarily scholarly and excellent. His text in the morning was from Deuteronomy 8:2, and in the evening from Matthew 6:27.

—The bounty paid by the County Commissioners for the extermination of noxious animals was increased at the last session of the Legislature on many species of animals. The bounty now paid on wild cats is $2.00; red or gray fox, $1.00; mink, 50 cents; owls, excepting the screech or barn owl, 50 cents, skunks, 25 cents. A person claiming bounty is required to make an affidavit before an alderman, who gives a certificate which, when, presented to the County Commissioners will secure the payment of the bounty.—Lock Haven Democrat.

A Visitor from Canada.

Mr. Thomas Bradley, of New Market, Canada, is visiting his brother, Mr. Benjamin Bradley. It is the first time that the brothers have met for sixteen years, and their meeting was under quite peculiar circumstances. In short, Benjamin Bradley was made the victim of a joke.

During the past five years, Thomas has been living in New Market, Canada, and promised his brother to visit him at the first opportunity.

He was expected this summer, although the exact time of his arrival was not known. On Friday evening last he arrived in town, unannounced. He asked the first gentleman he met the way to Mr. Bradley's house and as the gentleman lived in that vicinity he volunteered to escort him thither. The circumstances were related to the gentleman in question and together they planned the joke. It was conceded that the brothers would scarcely recognize each other after such a long separation.

When they arrived at Mr. Bradley's house that gentleman was at work in the yard. Advancing toward him, his neighbor said: "Mr Bradley, here's a countryman of yours who has been unfortunate, having lost all his money, will you keep him to-night? If you don't, I will." Mr. Bradley looked sharply at the stranger and consented to keep him. Then he inquired how the misfortune occurred, and it was while attempting to invent the details of this that the brother had to reveal himself. Of course, the scene that ensued may be imagined, and the talks and reminiscences that the brothers will enjoy during the period of Mr. Thomas Bradley's visit we will also be forced to leave to our reader's imagination.

Meeting of Borough Council.

The business of council, Monday evening, was transacted with a spirit of considerable more humor than usually pervades the proceedings.

Mr. Brockerhoff was made president pro tem.

Mr. James Milliken appeared before the council and stated two facts in reference to the grade of Linn street. Mr. Chas. McCafferty also appeared in reference to collecting the cost for the building of a fence in the alley south of Logan street. This matter was referred to the Street committee for investigation.

The Street committee recommended the adoption of the grade of Linn street as recently made by the borough engineer and the committee. The report was adopted by council.

The Fire and Police committee recommended the purchase of 300 feet of good 2½ inch rubber hose for the Logan Hose Company. This report was also agreed to.

The market receipts for two weeks were $9.50.

Treasurer Cook rendered a report of the kind and the numbers of bonds refunded, and the council adopted a resolution approving of his action in refunding them.

Principal Hughes, of the Bellefonte Academy, requested that an electric light be placed on Bishop street near the two entrances—one to the Academy and the other to the Brisbin property. It was referred to the Street committee.

The Grangers' Picnic at Williams Grove.

The thirteenth annual picnic and exhibition of Patrons of Husbandry will be held at Williams Grove, Cumberland county, Pa., commencing August 30th and continuing six days. The exhibition will be the largest ever held under the auspices of the society. It is expected that over 150,000 practical farmers, representing not less than twenty-five States, will attend the meeting, and prominent agriculturalists, statesmen and governors will deliver lectures and addresses. The display of agricultural machinery, horticultural and farm products, stock and poultry, will be large and imposing. The grounds will be illumintaed with electric light in the evenings, when there will be music, balloon ascensions, and other amusements. Several restaurants on the grounds will furnish refreshments.

For the benefit of those who desire to attend, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will, on August 30th, 31st, September 2d and 3d, sell excursion tickets to Williams Grove, good to return until September 6th, inclusive, from Bellefonte via. Lock Haven for $4.80, via. Tyrone $5.00, or via. L. and T. branch $4.34.

About Ventilating the Cellars.

We gather from remarks on the subject in an exchange that it is never advisable to ventilate a cellar during the daytime, in summer, but if outside air is admitted it should be at night when the air that enters is cooler than that already in the cellar. When a cool cellar is aired on a warm day, the entering air being in motion seems to be cool, but as it fills the cellar the cooler air with which it becomes mixed chills it, the moisture is condensed, and dew is deposited on the cold walls and may often be seen running down them in streams. Then the cellar is damp and soon becomes mouldy. There is no reason to fear that the night air is unhealthful. It is as pure as the air of midday, and is really drier.

—Since the custom of paying the miners once in two weeks instead of only once a month has been adopted in Philipsburg and vicinity it gives that borough two very lively days each month.

A Handsome New Church Edifice.

The writer was at Port Matilda a short time ago and while there went to inspect the new church edifice which the Baptist denomination are building. It is a neat little frame edifice and will seat about 300 persons. Architecturally, it is tasteful and will be a credit to the town, and speaks volumes for the judgment of those who planned it, one of the most prominent of whom was our friend, Mr. S. S. Miles.

While looking through the building, we met Mr. D. H. Canon, who is doing the painting. He is a very clever gentleman and understands his business. We also met Mr. E. R. Jones, who was plastering the said building. He kindly showed us around, and after examining the work we concluded that it was a good job of plastering and that any person having anything to do in that line would do well to call on Mr. Jones. The church will be dedicated on Sunday, Aug 22nd, at which time the members and supporters of the church at that place will be pleased to have their friends present.

—Mr. J. A. Daley, of Curtin township, was one of the genial gentlemen who mingled with the throng in Bellefonte on Saturday. He was attending to business though he found time to stop long enough to shake hands with acquaintances. He expects to visit Kansas again this fall. This reminds us that during a trip of the solicitor for this paper, soon after Mr. Daley's return from the West, he enjoyed that gentleman's hospitality. It was very interesting as well as instructive to hear Mr. Daley describe his adventures on "the plains." He brought with him some very interesting curiosities, including fine specimens of petrified plants and bones of animals that do not now exist in a living form. Among these is a part of a a rib of some immense animal which was unearthed while digging a very deep well.

—The REPUBLICAN had an agreeable call Saturday from Mr. H. C. Holter, of Howard. Mr. Holter is one of the most ingenius and skillful wood werkmen whom we have ever met. At his establishment in Howard he is always busy at the most difficult kind of woodwork which proves quite profitable to him. He receives numerous orders for church furniture, book cases and other articles which require the best workmanship, and his work always gives satisfaction. He also takes contracts for out door work and has just completed the erection of the spire of the new Baptist church at Eagleville. The spire is sixty-five feet high and is a very graceful and substantial structure.

—Little Katie Fortney, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Fortney, died on Sunday afternoon. We believe her death was caused by rheumatic fever. It is with much sincerity that we can sympathize with the parents in their bereavement. She was indeed a household treasure. The parents took much pride in their twin children—a son and a daughter—and to part with one of them is a trial of the severest kind. It is an affliction, the purpose of which is difficult to understand, but through the dark clouds the parents can look up to Heaven where a reunion awaits them and where all mysteries will be revealed. Funeral on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

—The time for festivals brings the usual number to Bellefonte, and next Friday and Saturday evenings the people of this place will have opportunity to attend one in the vacant store room between Dr. Miles Kirk's drug store and Isaac Guggenheimer's store. It will be given by the ladies' of the United Brethren church of this place, and will consist of all the delicacies of the season served in the best style. The roof of the church building needs repairs and the proceeds will be used for that purpose. Now, get together your small change, good friends, and give them enough to put a substantial roof on their church building.

—The free excursion to Fillmore Saturday evening was taken advantage of by about two hundred persons. The excursionists constituted a congenial and very pleasant company and the trip was made without accident or anything to mar the enjoyment of a delightful occasion on one of the most perfect evenings of the season. They were royally received and entertained by the people of Fillmore. It was about 12 o'clock when they returned. We hope the treasury of the Methodist Sunday-school of that place was made much richer by the festival.

—From this time forth the season at Cresson promises to be very lively, and a large increase in the number of visitors is anticipated within the next few weeks. Beside those who have already bespoken accommodations, the hotel people have arranged with the Pennsylvania railroad company to run a series of excursions from the eastern cities. The excursions will be run on the same general plan as those of last year, which were so successful and so eminently satisfactory to all concerned.

—Mr W. F. Reber, the court reporter, does things handsomely when he does them at all. He has placed the Y. M. C. A. under obligations to him for a beautiful and costly map of the United States, which will be of much use to those who frequent the rooms.

The time was all devoted to the receiving and considering reports from the committees.

After the committee on hats and badges had reported, their power was extended to uniforms and the committee continued. A motion was carried that the style of uniform be certainly decided upon at the next meeting—Friday evening.

The committee on transparencies reported, partially, that the plans for two transparencies had been made. The committee was continued.

Charles Cook for the committee on room reported and the work of the committee was so evident to all who occupied the convenient, well-lighted hall that the committee was discharged with thanks.

A motion designating the exact style of uniforms to adopt was laid on the table until the next meeting.
